

ADAMS SCHOOL PLAN APPEALS WILL BE HEARD IN HARRISBURG

The school reorganization plan for Adams County to become effective July 1, 1966, will be before the state Board of Education at Harrisburg next Wednesday when appeals from the County Board-approved plan will be heard.

The state board has listed hearings beginning at 10 a.m. for the appeals that have been taken from the six-unit Adams County plan in the form it was approved last May 21 on a three-to-two vote by the Adams County Board of School Directors.

Conecago Twp.'s appeal asks a link for it with Hanover borough. McSherrystown borough asks to continue as an independent school district and a consolidated appeal by East Berlin borough and Mt. Pleasant and Straban Twp. are asking for the creation of a one-unit county plan.

In the county plan approved by the county board in May, Conecago Twp. and McSherrystown are assigned to the New Oxford administrative unit. The other units in the six-unit plan center at Littlestown, Fairfield, Gettysburg, Upper Adams and Bermudian Springs.

Next week's hearings on the Adams County plan will be complicated by the question of the Hanover School District and its appeal from the York County plan to merit a tieup with Conecago Twp. Hanover school directors, however, have given notice they would like to join with Conecago Twp. for school purposes but only as a part of the York County school plan.

At its October meeting two weeks ago, the Adams County Board of School Directors expressed a willingness to receive Hanover into the Adams County plan for school purposes but announced its unwillingness to release Conecago Twp. and McSherrystown to York County.

Elementary pupils in Conecago Twp. and McSherrystown now attend school in Conecago Twp. while high school pupils from the two districts go into Hanover as tuition students.

School districts involved in the hearings next Wednesday were notified today of a change in the place for the hearings which originally were scheduled for the state education building.

The hearing site has been shifted to Public Utility Commission Hearing Room 3 in the North Office Building, Commonwealth Ave. and North St. in Harrisburg.

Attorneys for the appellant districts held a prehearing conference in Harrisburg late in September and worked out plans for the once-postponed November 4 hearings.

As counsel for the Adams County Board of School Directors, Attorney Eugene R. Hartman will argue for the six-unit plan adopted by the county board. Attorney Gerald Walmer is serving as solicitor for the East Berlin, Mt. Pleasant and Straban appeal. Attorney Edward B. Buleit is counsel for Conecago Twp. and Attorney Ronald Hagaman for McSherrystown. Legal counsel for the Hanover district and probably for the York County Board also will attend.

Eisenhowers Go To Augusta, Ga. This Evening

General and Mrs. Eisenhower left Gettysburg this afternoon for their winter home in Augusta, Ga., where the former president will recuperate from a respiratory infection which kept him hospitalized for a week in Walter Reed Hospital, Washington. They will depart from Washington by train this evening at 7:30 o'clock. It was not known how long they will remain in Augusta.

The 74-year-old former chief executive was discharged from Walter Reed Hospital in Washington Thursday after a week's confinement. His illness for a time seriously impaired his speech.

Although fully recovered, doctors said there was a lingering infection in one sinus and an ear and they advised Eisenhower to seek a period of rest in a warmer climate.

Two new county organizations joined the sponsoring groups this year, Cashtown Lions Club and the Littlestown Lions Club.

Representatives of the 19 organizations who attended the dinner and received tickets to be sold for the concert include:

FILE CHARGES ON DRAG RACE

Charges of drag racing have been brought against two men whose cars crashed into the center plot in New Oxford Square Tuesday evening.

The charges have been filed before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Gettysburg R. D. One of the two men, Gerald E. Hale, 23, New Oxford R. 1, was arrested Thursday evening and placed in jail in default of $500 bail after he appeared before the justice. At the justice's office, Hale entered a plea of innocent and waived a hearing, putting the case into the February term of court.

A similar charge of drag racing has been brought by police against Donald Smith, 29, Gettysburg R. 5. Smith was injured when his car rolled over onto its top after hitting a telephone pole and guard posts at the square. He was removed to the Hanover Hospital by New Oxford firemen's ambulance following the accident.

At the time of the accident, state police said that the Smith and Hale autos were traveling side by side on the New Chester Rd. into the square where the Smith car upset, and the Hale car, after crashing through guard rails, twisted about through the center plot and came out of the plot before coming to a stop. Both cars were demolished.

EMORY A. FOX DIES THURSDAY AT HIS HOME

Emory A. Fox, 81, Gettysburg R. 1, well-known Cumberland Twp. farmer and former school director, died at 7:20 o'clock Thursday evening at his home near Round Top on the Taneytown Rd. Death followed a lingering illness during which he had been hospitalized several times.

Mr. Fox was a native of Carroll County, Md., and was a son of the late William and Mary (Beard) Fox.

He was a member of the St. James Lutheran Church here and of its Men's Bible Class. He belonged to the Order of Independent Americans and was a charter member of the Barlow Fire Company. For many years he served as the company secretary.

SERVICES MONDAY

Mr. Fox had been a school director for Cumberland Twp. for 25 years and during the latter part of that term of service had been a member of the Gettysburg Joint School District Board. He had resided on his farm at Round Top for the last 58 years.

Surviving are his widow, the former Sarah E. Schwartz; these children, John W., Robert E., Richard L. and Paul B. Fox, all of Gettysburg, and Mrs. J. Gordon Holtzapfel, Lancaster. There are 13 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Peters Funeral Home with the Rev. Dr. Paul L. Reaser and the Rev. John Bishop officiating. Interment will be made in the Evergreen Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock at the funeral home.

2 APPOINTED TO SOIL BD.

The Adams County Commissioners this morning reappointed Stuart A. Lucabaugh, Hanover R. 5, as a member of the Adams County Soil and Water Conservation District board for a four-year term. Harrison G. Fair was named as the commissioner member of the board.

Other business this morning included the division of the 40 election districts in the county outside Gettysburg among the three commissioners to permit them each to deliver approximately one-third of the ballot supplies to the judges of election of those districts Saturday. Saturday is the earliest that the distribution of the supplies for Tuesday's election can be made to the election officials. The ballots for the four election districts in Gettysburg will be distributed early Tuesday morning by Commissioner's Clerk M. Hardy Nichols.

Going with the election supplies this year will be brand new American flags for all districts, and the judges of election will be instructed to burn old ones left over from prior elections—some of which, according to the commissioners, had become "pretty shoddy."

Also going with the election supplies this year will be small, inexpensive pencil sharpeners for use by the boards. The commissioners felt the less than a nickel apiece cost for the sharpeners will be more than repaid when they check the tallies returned by the boards.

DISCUSS MENTAL HEALTH

Howard Y. Musselman, county coordinator for Region VI of the state comprehensive planning for Mental Health program, discussed the mental health program, which had its origin in legislation adopted in 1955 with the formation of the National Institute of Health joint committee which produced a report on mental health. He said the report opposed large institutions for mental health treatment and led President Kennedy in 1960 to obtain congressional appropriations for individual states to study their local needs, facilities and resources.

He said that $400,000 is available to Pennsylvania, which is divided into eight regions to study mental and emotionally disturbed children, mentally ill and disturbed adults, mental retardation and other problem areas including alcoholism, drug addiction and juvenile delinquency.

"Adams County is fortunate in having convergence of four important factors at this time," Musselman said, in an active mental health association, available state and federal funds, individuals who have promised financial support and the availability of Brookline Farms, a qualified institution which is willing to assist local programs.

Ill Ex-Mayor Of Saigon Named Premier Of South Viet Nam Over Gen. Khanh

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Tran Van Huong, former mayor of Saigon, was named today to succeed Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh as premier despite ill health which hampered his work as mayor.

Huong, 60, said he planned to name Dr. Nguyen Luu Vien, Khanh's uncle, as deputy premier and defense minister. His other Cabinet choices were not certain.

Huong's appointment by the new chief of state, Phan Khanh Sui, must be confirmed by the 16-member high national council responsible for setting up a new government.

MAY HEAD ARMY

Because of Khanh's relationship to Vien, there could be strong opposition to Vien's being named defense minister. In that post he will have a seat on the powerful four-man national security council, and Khanh is expected to fill one of the other seats as chief of the armed forces.

Vien was interior minister in Khanh's last Cabinet.

"I'm not sure whether I should be congratulated or offered condolences," Huong said. "But this is a critical period in Vietnamese history, and I have accepted this sacrifice for my nation as a matter of conscience."

Former Official Of Legion Buried

Military services for Earle R. Stratton, 71, a World War I veteran, who died Sunday in Lowell, Mass., were held Thursday noon in the National Cemetery.

Stratton was a past national sergeant-at-arms of the American Legion, a past state commander in Massachusetts and a past commander of the Lowell Post.

Assisting in the military rites were the following members of the Albert J. Lentz Post: Robert W. Fox Jr., Richard Fox, James Cole, Edward Cole, Edward Pittenturi, Kenneth Selby and Harold Small.

Rev. Robert Pearson, pastor of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church, conducted the graveside services. The Bender Funeral Home was in charge of the local arrangements.

MORE DAMAGE BY VANDALS IS UNCOVERED

Additional details were available today on property damaged by the gang of vandals who went on a rampage in the town Wednesday night, apparently during the Halloween parade here. Police believe the vandalism may have occurred at that time, while all officers were engaged in handling the parade and most of the populace were down town watching the procession.

In addition to breaking nine window panes at Gettysburg High School and Keefeauver School, cutting wires on two parochial school buses parked near the VFW, breaking the windshield of a car on E. High St. and breaking up a bicycle on Breckenridge St. the vandals also, according to reports to borough police Thursday afternoon:

Broke a window in a classroom at St. Francis Xavier School. Placed ice on seats of cars in the parking lot behind the Catholic rectory.

NIMRODS WILL FIND HUNTING GOOD IN ADAMS

An estimated 5,000 hunters may be roaming the fields and woods of Adams County Saturday morning when the small game season opens at 8 o'clock and, according to the experts, they should find the county "real hunting country."

Adams County Game Protector Homer Thrush said: "The pheasant population is very good, even slightly better than last year."

As to rabbits, Thrush said, "there is an average supply. We had a slight increase of rabbits in this area last year and it looks like we have maintained that increase this year. Quail are fairly well distributed. Just the other day I saw a covey of about 25 birds. Grouse shooting in the mountain areas should be fair."

MANY LICENSE OUTLETS

The county's number of licensed hunters exceeds the 3,000 mark. County Treasurer Daniel J. Wolf has issued 1,805 resident hunting licenses, 518 nonresident licenses and 185 junior resident licenses, plus 462 archery licenses. The 2,970 licenses issued up to closing time Thursday by the county treasurer was expected to increase by perhaps several hundred more before noon Saturday. The treasurer steadily had a "counter full" of people seeking licenses today.

In addition, several thousand licenses are sold at various business places throughout the county. By 10 this morning "about 500" licenses had been issued by the Gettysburg News and Sporting Goods Agency on Chambersburg St. and possibly another 200 or so were expected to be sold before the season gets far underway.

At Wagner Service Station in Biglerville, where many upper county residents obtain licenses, 300 had been sold until this morning and it was anticipated that "if things go as in the past we'll sell 200 to 250 more tonight."

Wildeman, assistant pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the Zion Lutheran Church. The one-hour program is being sponsored by the Fairfield Ministerium. Youth groups from the Mennonite, Reformed and Lutheran churches of the community are planning to attend in a body.

The Rev. Fr. Wildeman was appointed last August as deanery moderator of the Program for Christian Understanding by Bishop George L. Leech of the Harrisburg diocese. He is a native of Harrisburg and served at St. Peter's Church in Mt. Carmel before coming to Gettysburg.

Johnson received 700 votes and Goldwater 565 votes. 1,265 ballots out of a possible 1,850 student body were counted as valid. There were a number of write-ins none of whom were considered true candidates.

The election was sponsored by the Gettysburgian student weekly newspaper and the Student Union Board.

COURT GRANTS NEW TRIAL IN PITZER ACTION

The Adams County court Thursday granted a new trial in the action in assumpsit brought by Gerald T. Sajer, trustee in bankruptcy for Waugaman, Pitzer and Messner, Inc., against Charles W. Pitzer, Harrisburg, St.

The order takes off a compulsory nonsuit entered by the court some months ago at the conclusion of the plaintiff's case in a trial before the court without a jury.

According to the opinion in the case, Pitzer in February, 1959, purchased 100 shares of Class A voting stock of Waugaman, Pitzer and Messner for $1,000, plus 1,000 shares of Class B nonvoting stock for $10,000. Shortly thereafter he became a director and treasurer of the corporation. On October 24, 1959, he transferred all of his stock to the corporation and received the sum of $11,000. He also resigned as treasurer and director of the corporation.

ADJUDGED BANKRUPT

Some time thereafter the corporation was adjudicated a bankrupt by the United States District Court for the Middle District of Pennsylvania and Sajer was appointed trustee in bankruptcy.

The trustee in bankruptcy held that the repurchase of the stock by the corporation was illegal distribution of assets and is seeking to recover the purchase price from Pitzer.

According to the court's opinion, Section 707 of the Business Corporation Law of 1933 provides that the directors of a business shall not "authorize the withdrawal or distribution of any part of its assets to shareholders by the purchase of its shares or otherwise . . . except to the extent of its unrestricted and unreserved earned surplus or unrestricted capital surplus . . . and if any unlawful distribution of assets is made . . . the directors shall jointly and severally be liable to the corporation in an amount equal to the amount of the unlawful distribution of assets."

BALANCE SHEETS FAULTY

The court noted that Pitzer was a director at the time of the purchase of his stock by the corporation.

KANN TO LEAD NEW 4-H CLUB

Edwin A. Kann, of the Adams Electric Cooperative, has been appointed "organization leader" for the Adams County 4-H Town and Country Business Club scheduled to be organized November 17.

His selection was made Thursday night at a meeting in the Adams Electric building of extension officials; John Schwartz, representing the youths who will comprise the club, and business leaders of the dairy industry.

Plans call for the club this year to cover details of the dairy industry, from the farm to the consumer. As in the past, the club will hold two sessions a month, one a lecture type meeting to discuss various factors of one phase of a business, and the other a visit to a plant, farm or store to see carried out in practice the material covered in the prior lecture meeting.

Present plans call for a visit to a dairy farm, a visit to a dairy processing plant, details of such distribution of milk systems as Inter-State, advertising, and other phases of marketing. The sessions will cover all phases of agribusiness including financing, economics, etc.

Associate County Agent Duane Duncan said the club will be open to all youths over age 14, whether they have previously been members of 4-H or not.

JURY BOOSTS DAMAGE GRANT TO GARDNERS

An Adams County jury at 11:45 this morning handed up a verdict finding the state should pay J. Russell and Sarah V. Gardner, York Springs R. 1, $10,845 for damage to the Gardner farm in Latimore Twp., caused by the relocation of Route 15 in the York Springs area.

Arthur W. Deardorff, Arendtsville, was foreman for the jury which noted that its award not only included the amount of damages but also an amount to cover interest on the money since the land was taken in 1961.

The case was the last for trial during the current term and was last of three appeals from the award of boards of view heard by juries during the current term. All of the damages were caused by relocations of Route 15.

AMOUNTS BOOSTED

In each case the juries gave a higher award to the property owner than had been awarded by the board of view. The owners of the properties, however, had not been the ones to appeal in all three cases, in at least one case the Commonwealth had appealed.

The jury this morning granted $10,845 to Mr. and Mrs. Gardner. The board of view had awarded $6,000.

Thursday a jury awarded $16,000 to C. T. Hawbaker, Gettysburg R. 1, for damages to his property in Cumberland and Mt. Joy Twp. The board of view had awarded him $15,000.

Wednesday a jury awarded Joseph L. and Ruth M. Davies, Gettysburg R. 1, $12,500 damages to their property in Mt. Joy Twp. The board of view had awarded $6,500.

VIEWED PROPERTY

Trial of the Gardner appeal began Thursday with the jury viewing the property in the morning and then hearing testimony in the afternoon. The Gardner farm had consisted of 73.3 acres. A total of 7.96 acres was taken for highway purposes and 17.17 acres were cut off from the remainder of the farm by the limited access road.

In testimony during the Gardner case, Harold Reichart testified the property was worth $26,500 before the taking of land and $14,500 after. Lee M. Hartman placed the value of the farm before the taking was $25,800 and the value afterward was $12,800. William Bigham, for the Commonwealth, estimated the value before taking was $21,900 and afterwards $16,100.

The jury for the Gardner case included Samuel A. Bittle, Littlestown R. 2; Richard Cogley, Arendtsville; Arthur Deardorff, Arendtsville; Maybelle Forney, 427 Baltimore St.; Opal L. Gebhart, Hanover R. 4; Mrs. Madolyn Heiney, 115 Springs Ave.; Mrs. Hazel G. Hoffman, East Berlin; Cloyd W. Miller, Gettysburg R. 5; Ralph Myers, East Berlin R. 2; Charles L. Showers, Aspers R. 1. Mrs. Robert Smith, Arendtsville and Ray Weikert, Fairfield R. 1.

The current term, criminal and civil, was one of the longer sessions in recent years covering 16 days.

AUXILIARY TO MARCH AGAIN

The Gettysburg Fire Department Auxiliary will meet this evening at 6:15 o'clock at the engine house, E. Middle St., to go to New Oxford.

Members are asked to wear the costumes they had Wednesday night when their unit, "The Romper Room Rejects," won a prize in the Gettysburg Halloween procession.

Tonight's parade at New Oxford will move at 7 o'clock from the old high school building on N. Peters St., where the procession will form and contestants will be given numbers. The parade will move south on N. Peters St., to Lincolnway E., then to Center Square, E., south on Water St., to High St., then east on Hanover St., north to Carlisle St., then to Berlin Rd.

Another area Halloween parade scheduled for this week is one Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in Emmitsburg sponsored by the Francis X. Elder American Legion post. The Emmitsburg parade will form at the Doughboy at the west end of town and after parading on Main St. will terminate in the grove at St. Vincent's Rectory where cider and gingerbread will be served participants.

SEE INCREASE IN ABSENTEE SERVICE VOTES

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — As many as 1.3 million U.S. servicemen may vote by absentee ballot in next Tuesday's presidential election — about 550,000 more than in 1960, defense officials said today.

Many ballots already are on their way to polling officials by mail from American military men and their families in the United States and overseas.

Officials assigned by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara to get out the military vote said 60 to 65 per cent of the estimated 2 million eligible servicemen may cast absentee ballots.

Four years ago, a total of 735,019 service men voted in this manner — a bit below 40 per cent of the 1,888,597 then eligible.

MARINE RECORD

The Marines have the best record with a 68 per cent voting rate. The Navy came next with 44.2 per cent, the Air Force followed with 38.9 per cent and the Army trailed with 32.4 per cent.

Pentagon officials said hopes for a huge increase in servicemen voting this year stem from actions designed to assure that every man received a federal postcard application for an absentee ballot.

McNamara ordered that commanders make certain an application card was placed in every man's hand. This "in hand" distribution was due to be completed Sept. 25.

Applications for absentee ballots also were available to dependents of servicemen. About 750,000 wives and adult sons and daughters of servicemen are eligible to vote absentee this year, official tabulations show.

All the 50 states and the District of Columbia permit absentee voting by servicemen.

Over $900 In Sales At Fairfield Bazaar

More than $900 in cash was taken in Thursday at the third annual bazaar conducted at the Fairfield Mennonite Church in the afternoon and evening when refugee-made items from many parts of the world were on sale. Several hundreds dollars worth of order were taken for articles to be made for later delivery. It was the most successful sale of the three held at Fairfield in three years to aid refugees around the world.

The money received from the sale is turned back into the Mennonite Central Committee's program where it will be used to supply needy refugees in such places as Haiti, Hong Kong, India, Jordan and Korea with materials with which they can make more articles for sale and thus bolster their small incomes.

The Fairfield Church and the Bethel Mennonite Church, Biglerville, were the sponsors of the bazaar projects.

TAYLOR GIVES ASIAN VIEWS

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said today there has been "deterioration and a loss of momentum in recent weeks and months" in South Viet Nam.

But despite lack of progress in various programs here during the last year, "in the field, the operations against the Viet Cong have gone surprisingly well," he added.

Taylor made the comments in an interview with Columbia Broadcasting System, in which the main question was how Taylor felt about developments since the overthrow of the Ngo Dinh Diem regime a year ago.

Because of the political instability over the past year, Taylor said, "there has been no opportunity in this period to carry forward methodically and systematically the programs which we had laid out at this time last year."

Taylor said he had high hopes that the new civilian government would be able to produce a strong, stable regime. But he said only time would tell.

COURT APPEAL LOOMS

Although the appeal hearings are expected to be completed in a day, County Superintendent of Schools M. Francis Coulson told members of the county board at their last meeting that it may be "months" before the decision of the state board is announced. The possibility of even further delay in final settlement of all of these issues involved is indicated by instructions that have been given Attorney Hagarman by the McSherrytown school board. If he cannot win continuance as an independent school district for McSherrytown, he has directions to proceed with a court appeal.

RUSSIAN STAR SAYS EARNINGS TOP OTHERS

LONDON (AP) — Soviet movie queen Natalya Fateyeva, a girl with one of the slinkiest shapes in the Soviet Union, reckons she can earn more money in Moscow than in Hollywood.

"I am highly paid," she told newsmen, "by any standards." Her annual income in rubles is equivalent to more than $100,000 at the official rate. For her apartment in Moscow, she says, she pays around $6 a week.

Now in London to publicize a week of Soviet films, Natalya, 25, is giving the West a glimpse of a hitherto little known breed — the Soviet sex symbol.

Auburn-haired, leggy and with a 36-25-37 figure, Natalya is a far cry from the pudding-shaped female in the West's popular notion of Soviet womanhood.

Posing for pictures at a Soviet Embassy reception Thursday, Natalya said: "I would make a film in London or Hollywood if I was offered a really good part. But I can earn more money in Moscow."

Married and with one son, Natalya started acting at the age of 19.

"I get mobbed by fans and my fan mail comes to over 1,000 letters a week. People are forever ringing me up."

Natalya has now acted in eight films.

MORE CHANGES BY STEEL FIRM

NEW YORK (AP)—For the first time in 19 years, Bethlehem Steel Corp.—out ranked in the industry only by U.S. Steel—has opened its board of directors to executives of other firms.

Four outsiders—an industrialist, two bankers and an educator—were named to the board Thursday.

It was a third major change within a year affecting top level direction of Bethlehem, a somewhat aloof and withdrawn company in a conservative industry.

Late last year, Bethlehem, drawing abreast of modern business practice in another respect, adopted a mandatory retirement policy for high officials.

The policy signaled an exodus of senior management officers including the controller, three key vice president and Arthur B. Homer, who retired as board chairman and chief executive officer upon becoming 68 in April.

LIVING COSTS SHOW UPTURN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose two-tenths of one per cent in September resuming an upward trend broken briefly in August, the Labor Department said today.

The increase took the government's consumer price index to 108.4. This means it took $10.84 last month to purchase typical consumer items that could be bought for $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

President Johnson had already announced the rise in prices in a Detroit speech in advance of the release here by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Higher food, housing and clothing prices contributed to the over-all September rise in the index.

Food prices were three-tenths of one per cent higher because of rises in meat and egg prices. Meats went up 2.8 per cent from August, largely because of Midwest farmers withholding livestock from the market in an effort to get more money, the bureau said.

Seven Elderly Persons Perish In Blaze Today

COLUSA, Calif. (AP) — Seven elderly persons, groping blindly in thick clouds of smoke, were killed today in a fast-moving fire that burned down the Oak Manor Rest Home for the aged.

"They were dead when the fire reached their bodies," said Colusa County Coroner Howard Moore. He attributed all the deaths to carbon monoxide poisoning.

PROBE CAUSE

Cause of the fire was being investigated. Moore said a caretaker, Ernest Linebaugh, 24, and an inmate, Rosa Rourke, in her 50s, repeatedly ran into the burning one-story wooden building to bring out six other surviving inmates.

Moore gave this account of the tragedy: Linebaugh was asleep in the one-story building when one of the inmates, apparently Mrs. Rourke, saw smoke in a rear wing and made an outcry.

SOUNDS ALARM

With the smoke thickening, Linebaugh pulled the home's fire alarm. It rang for three or four minutes then stopped, apparently because the power supply failed. The lights went out, too, Moore said.

Meantime, Linebaugh called the Colusa fire department. He and Mrs. Rourke rushed back and forth from the home to the lawn to bring out inmates. Flames were shooting through the building.

Moore theorized that the dead inmates had been aroused with the rest, when the inside alarm went off. But by the time they were ready to come out the smoke got so thick they couldn't find their way.

Moore lauded Linebaugh and Mrs. Rourke, whom he credited with saving several lives.

Loses Legs In Freak Mishap

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A workman who hung upside down for nearly two hours, with a steel cable snagged around his legs, was in critical condition today following amputation of both legs.

Edwin Engquist, 59, working alone on a demolition job was hoisting a 20-foot girder over a wall Thursday when a cable caught on the girder wrapped around his legs.

The 1,500-pound girder tumbled to the ground, the cable pulling Engquist from his perch, the cable knotted tightly around his legs.

About an hour later, men who had been working elsewhere on the grounds found Engquist hanging 40 feet above the floor of the gravel bin. It took more than 45 minutes to free him. Engquist's legs were nearly cut through just below the knees.

Hares Are Beaten By Turtles Again

History repeated itself today at the Gettysburg College track when the turtles beat the hares again.

Twenty-four pupils from Christ Lutheran Kindergarten participated in this morning's race, climbing a study of turtles. Dozens of parents waited in the stands for the event. The turtles and the hares marched from the church to the college track in costumes which they made for their Halloween party.

After semifinals and finals two turtles were declared winners in the morning race and the tired and weary little animals limped to the Bullet Hole snack bar where they were revived by milk and cookies before returning to their classrooms.

The races were under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Howard Bream. The afternoon class was scheduled to race at 2 this afternoon.

Library To Show Children's Books

The Adams County Public Library, E. High St., will have its collection of recently purchased books for preschool children through age 13 shelved in a special section of the children's room for Children's Book Week opening November 2.

The collection will remain there for several weeks so that the children may become familiar with it. The collection will include new editions of children's classics as well as recently published picture and story books.

The children's room and the bookmobile will have posters on display by Bruno Munari, the noted illustrator of children's books, and streamers drawn by other illustrators of note. The mobile which will be displayed in the children's room was designed by the Caldecott-winning artist, Leonard Weisgard, with this year's slogan "Swing Into Books." During the week the children will be given bookmarks decorated with a miniature of Mr. Munari's poster and a poem written by David McCord, especially for Book Week, which begins: Books fall open, you fall in, delighted where you've never been.

Parents as well as children are invited to inspect the collection.

Star Gems Stolen From Big Museum

NEW YORK (AP) — Gems worth approximately $200,000 including the world's largest star sapphire, the "Star of India," were stolen during the night from Manhattan's famed Museum of Natural History, police reported today.

Another extremely valuable item among the eight taken was what is called the "Star Ruby." The precious stones were part of the J.P. Morgan collection displayed on the museum's fourth floor.

Police said the theft occurred sometime between 9 o'clock Thursday night and 9 a.m. today.

HOPE SERVICES HELD

Funeral services for Joseph Amos Hofe, who died Monday at his home near New Windsor, were held Wednesday from the C. O. Fuss and Son Funeral Home, Taneytown, with the Rev. Arthur Garvin officiating. Interment in the Lutheran Cemetery. Pallbearers were Curtis Staley, Charles Davis Stultz, Harold Smith and Lloyd Bollinger.

HEAR TALKS ON BOTH PARTIES

A mock political rally Wednesday enabled students of St. Joseph's Academy, McSherrystown, to express their feelings regarding the presidential candidates in the 1964 election.

Divided into two parties, Republican and Democrat, the students, early in the afternoon, heard talks on the two parties. Fred Klunk, Adams County candidate for state assemblyman, and Thomas Oyler, of the Adams County for Goldwater Committee, were the speakers.

Presiding over the rally was Starr Williams, Secretary, Md., president of the academy's student government.

Voicing the thoughts of the Democratic party and its presidential candidate, Lyndon B. Johnson, were Mary Castiglia and Terese Yealy. The Democratic delegation was then led in a song, singing original party songs prepared by the students.

Speaking for the Republican party were Julie Burkee and Susan Bagot. They gave their views on their party's candidate, Barry Goldwater. The Republican delegation also had its song, fest and demonstration.

Both demonstrations, with banners, signs, noisemakers and shouting, took on the flavor of a real political convention.

Please Note

My opponent could not adhere to the clean campaign practices. He saw fit to publicly disclose my entire Commonwealth employment record including my salary. This he has done through hand-circulating a typewritten paper. Of my record as a state employee I am proud.

The following is the text of a paper my opponent is circulating over the typewritten names of Donald F. Wills, chairman; B. T. Miller, treasurer "Clean Government Committee For Francis Worley."

You will note that I have served in very responsible positions under five Governors. Had I not been an honest and efficient employee serving the best interests of all concerned I would not have been serving the state.

x In April, 1940, and January, 1963, I was involuntarily separated from state employment due to the changes in the administrations.

Apparently a cloud of fear of losing this election is descending on the man who has claimed to have represented Adams County for 18 years and is presently seeking another two years state employment.

Now take a look at his side of the picture.

The Republican candidate for the state legislature is reported to be asserting that he seeks his tenth term in the legislature in order to secure his state pension.

The Republican candidate has been receiving a state pension.

On Dec. 1, 1962, he started receiving a monthly state pension of $282

If he is elected to his tenth term his monthly state pension will be increased to

$387

This is a monthly increase of $105

How long must the Adams County Taxpayers be called upon to support the Republican candidate who said that he was unemployed?

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Today's TalkON THE WORSHIP OF FALSE IDEALSHow startling are the actions of those who worship at the altar of false ideals in competition with those who would flagrantly boast of their wealth, or who would put it in competition with solid character. How flimsy is this show of luxury and ostentation.Especially is this shown at the present time when the cry for production in industry is so urgent. Nearly half a century ago, Lecky, in his wise and profound interesting book, "The Map of Life," said this: "Wealth which is expended in multiplying and elaborating real comforts, or even in pleasures which produce enjoyment at all proportionate to their cost, will never excite serious indignation." It is vulgar waste that discolours and poisons our economic life.Even governments, that prate so loudly of their nationalism, forget that their greatest function is to make their people happy, and reasonably content.So many of us become influenced away from the simple and sterling admonitions of our youth. We see someone perhaps contemporary with us, who seems to be making greater progress, and we deviate from our set way, and from our inherited ideals, to try and keep pace with that one. We must remember that we are entities in ourselves, and need most of all to set a standard of achievement and work, plan, and build to it. False ideals, in time, crumble of themselves.There are always compensations that steadily accumulate because of a never deviating course from the ideals that one early establishes as his guide through life. Said William James: "Wherever a process of life communicates an eagerness to him who lives it, there the life becomes genuinely significant."Nothing is more substantial and profitable in the building of a character than to keep your own ideals — and keep them in place — unassociated with the false ideals of those who give to them an outward glamor, but which have a false and empty interior.Tomorrow's subject:

TROPHY FURS. A game hunter might well envy the trophies to be found in sports furs. This winter's catch includes buffaloand kangaroo, along with the more copious raccoon, lynx, silver seal, wolf and badger.Fashion hunters can bag the pelts in all manner of "fun"
casuals, from parkas to car coats, pullover sweaters and sport coats.
Sports furs are fun in both their look and performance. They have a natural fashion affinity for outdoor life and the open road. And, being warm and hardy they are practically impervious to weather conditions.However, no pelt will stand up to neglect. Sports furs may not need the tender care that is given luxury types, but they do require some consideration. Prescribed methods follow:● Between wearings, hang a sports fur in a closet, leaving plenty of "air space" between it and other garments. Gently shake it to fluff the pile before hanging.● Hang damp or wet fur in a cool, open place—the shower rod, for instance. Avoid direct heat; never dry furs on a radiator or the skin will crack and fall apart.
Really sodden fur should be blotted lightly with a paper towel.
When dry, it can be fluffed by shaking. There are combs for this purpose, too. But, before using one, it is best to ask a furrier'sTOWNE

Bullets Stalk Leopards Cautiously In MAC Tilt At Easton On Saturday

Despite the records and statistics of the teams, the Gettysburg College football team will have its hands full and will not take things lightly when its stalks Lafayette's Leopards in Easton Saturday afternoon in a 2 o'clock kickoff engagement.

The Bullets will be facing a fired-up Leopard squad. Lafayette will be performing before the annual Founder's Day crowd and it would like nothing better than to record its first win of the season on that day.

Gettysburg coach Gene Haas has cautioned his squad concerning the throwing arm of captain and quarterback George Hosselopp. Hosselopp has caused the Bullets trouble two years running and is looking forward to another good performance. Gettysburg's pass defense has held its six opponents to an average of 85.3 yards per game. Hosselopp has directed the Leopard attack to a 148-yard per game average. The Lafayette thrower has personally completed 39 of 88 tosses for 399 yards and three touchdowns.

Gettysburg will have to keep its eye on end Dave Brown and halfback Scott Johnston. Both men are leading in pass receptions with a total of 23 catches for 222 yards. Glen Van Tuyle and Bill Horvath are also expected to make their presence felt as they are currently pacing the ground attack.

Both Gettysburg and Lafayette will present a similar offensive attack. Both squads throw the ball quite often and both are below average in the rushing department. The major problem facing the Leopards will be Gettysburg's two well rounded front walls which will alternate throughout the contest.

Junior Jim Ward directs the Bullet offense from his quarterback slot. His 363 yards total of offense against Muhlenberg last week threw him over the 1,000 yard mark on the season. Gettysburg's running game is handled by Senior Tony Presogna, and Sophomore Rod Albright. However, Crag Markel, a Sophomore flash, is coming on strong and gives Haas another tough rusher. The flankers in the Bullets' prototype offense will be Ken Snyder, and Dale Boyd. Snyder saw only a few minutes of action in last week's game but is ready to go full time against Lafayette.

Gettysburg's starting first unit line will consist of ends Joe Egrestiz, 6'2", 200, and Dick Mason, 6'1", 210; tackle Irv Strohecker, 6'4", 230; guards Brian Tierney, 6', 195, and Ron Brentzel, 6', 185; and center Bob Furney, 6', 210. The two defensive specialists will be Bill Brewer, 6', 190, and Jack Costner, 6', 195.

Coach Ken Bunn, in his second season at the Leopard helm, will start a backfield including Hosselopp at quarterback; Van Tuyle and Johnston at the half-back slots and Bernard Carlson, 5'9", 185, at fullback. The line will be handled by ends Gabe Washo, 6'1", 200, and Brown, 6'3", 190; tackles Henry Butcher, 5'11", 210, and Terry Morrow, 6', 215; guards Earl Vigne, 6', 195, and John Oskam, 6'1", 195; and center Tom Rosenberg, 6'1", 220.

Gettysburg will enter the game with a 4-0 record in the MAC conference and needs a victory to stay on top of the league. The Bullets are 5-1 overall, Lafayette is 0-4-1 on the season and 0-3-1 in the conference.

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Marlene Hage shot a 69 Thursday to lead the women professional golfers in the pro-am section of the Las Cruces Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Kathy Whitworth followed with a 70 and Mickey Wright, the leading money winner on the women's tour, had a 71.

Dick Fair, Biglerville High School back, has tallied three touchdowns in the Blue Mountain League games to rank among the top individual scorers. Terry Taylor, who has been credited with five six-pointers, has scored four.

Final
Scotland at Carlisle.

Gettysburg Junior High overwhelmed a strong and stubborn Scotland team 40-19 at Scotland Thursday afternoon in closing a highly successful season with a 5-1 record. The Braves outscored their opponents in their six games, 164 to 59.

The title in the South Penn Junior High League will be decided next Thursday when Scotland invades Carlisle for the final game. According to rules of the league the standing is decided on percentage. Carlisle, playing two less games than Gettysburg, is 2-0-1 while the Braves are 5-1.

Once again it was a fine all-around team effort for the Braves who exhibited sharp blocking and tackling as well as fine running and passing.

Gettysburg struck for a score on the opening play when Eddie Hughes took the kickoff and raced 80 yards. He added the point on a run.

Scotland struck back and marched 70 yards on power plays with Pogue going over on a dive play from the one. A run for the point was stopped.

The charges of Pat Kelly, Jude Smith and Jim Papoutsis got the touchdown back a few minutes later when "Bo" Davies fired a pass to Eric Maitland from the Scotland 40. Hughes swept end for the point.

LONG SCORING PLAYS
In the second period Davies, unable to spot a receiver, scampered around end for a score from the 15 and when a pass failed for the point the Braves led 20-6 at intermission.

Howard Dorsey ran 45 yards on an end sweep for a Gettysburg score in the third frame and Hughes added another extra point on a sweep.

Scotland scored an early fourth period score when Shauf connected on a screen pass to Roupe which was good for 40 yards.

"Butch" Alberts took the following kickoff on his 30 and raced the entire way for a six-point, getting a key block by Wally Kane at the 10 to clear the way.

Gettysburg kicked to Scotland and on the first play Maitland picked off a Cadet pass and raced 40 yards down the sideline. On a fake kick, Davies ran over for the point to make it 40-12.

Scotland, playing against the local reserves, added a touchdown late in the game on a five-yard smash by Pogue.

Red Wings Tie Montreal At Top

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Red Wings' Manager Coach Sid Abel has no goaltending problems — not with Roger Crozier stopping everything the opposition fires his way.

But Abel would like to see some points being scored by his younger players.

Bruce MacGregor scored two second period goals and Crozier kicked aside 32 shots to record his third shutout in four games in Detroit's 2-0 victory over Boston Thursday night.

STEELERS CAN UPSET BROWNS IN TITLE RACE

By MIKE RATHET
The Pittsburgh Steelers, who threw a monkey wrench into last season's battle for the National Football League's Eastern Division title, have an opportunity to scramble the race again this weekend—with an umbrella.

The Steelers, it will be remembered, parlayed three ties and seven victories into a shot at their first divisional crown last year despite a poor won-lost percentage, but bowed out with a loss to the New York Giants in the last game of the regular season.

Now they're bogged down at 3-4, but could throw the Eastern race into a tight struggle by beating Cleveland in one of the key games on the NFL schedule Sunday.

The Browns have a 5-1-1 record but their lone loss was to the Steelers, who got the job done with an effective 6-1-4 Umbrella Defense that stymied Cleveland.

While the Browns are trying to even the season series with the Steelers, second-place St. Louis, 4-2-1, will be at New York, and third-place Philadelphia, 4-3, at home to Washington.

The Baltimore Colts, leading the Western Division with a 6-1 record, could break the race open by downing San Francisco while Detroit and Los Angeles, tied 4-2 second with 4-2-1 records, are bargaining heads.

RAMS, COLTS AND PACKERS PICKED TO WIN

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cleveland seeks revenge for an earlier loss to Pittsburgh, Baltimore goes after its seventh straight victory and Detroit and Los Angeles battle for the runner-up role in the West in key National Football League games Sunday.

Buffalo, only unbeaten team in the majors, shoots for its eighth straight against Houston and Boston duels New York for runner-up honors in the East in top American Football League games.

A 9-2 record last week gives us courage to go for a few upsets this time. The season score is 47-24-5 — 28-18-3 in the NFL and 19-6-2 in the AFL.

Here goes for the second half: (All games Sunday afternoon unless otherwise indicated):

NFL
Los Angeles 21, Detroit 17 — An upset right off the bat. The Rams and Lions play "get the Rams" with their tough defensive lines. They fought to 17-17 tie Sept. 19 but Los Angeles outgained Detroit. Ram rookies pack more scoring punch, with Milt Plum handicapped by injured elbow.

Dallas 17, Chicago 14 — Cowboy defense to handle Bill Wade's passes in another surprise. Dallas coming strong in last two weeks with Don Meredith healthy. Bears battered physically but still playing.

St. Louis 24, New York 17 — Despite loss of Sonny Randle, Cards have mixture of running and passing to top Giants and blitzing defense to harass Y. A. Tittle. Both quarterbacks have interception trouble. Cards will give Giant rookie Ernie Wheelwright prime test. Running of Joe Childress, Willie Crenshaw and John David Crow makes Cards tough.

Baltimore 28, San Francisco 10 — One of these days Colts are going to have a letdown. Could be this one but 49ers don't have rush line to hurry Johnny Unitas and John Brodie will get a rough reception. Colts' well-balanced offense too much.

Green Bay 24, Minnesota 21 — Vikings won their first meeting 24-23 on a missed extra point by Paul Hornung. Loss of Paul Flatley hurts Minnesota's air arm. Vikings can be had with passes. Both clubs can move the ball on the ground. A real tough one.

Cleveland 24, Pittsburgh 21 — This could be a killer. Steelers made 353 yards on the ground with John Henry Johnson and Clarence Peaks in winning first meeting 23-7. Conservative Brown pass rush gives Ed Brown plenty of time. But Jim Brown is overdue for a big one, especially against a club that stopped him cold earlier. Everybody runs against Steelers — except Browns.

Washington 21, Philadelphia 20 — Another upset. Toughest pick of the week. Redskins won first game 35-20 on five touchdown passes by Sonny Jurgensen who may have key to Eagle defense. Bobby Mitchell caught 12 against Glenn Getty's first time so Nate Ramsey gets the job this week. Can Ollie Matson and Earl Gros run on Skins? That will decide it.

AFL
Boston 24, New York 21 (Saturday night) — Patriots beat Jets' earlier 26-10. Mike Holovak's crew best in league on defense against rushing and Jets must have big yardage by Matt Snell to win. Gino Cappelletti and Jim Colough catching Babe Parilli's passes give Boston edge. Jets vulnerable to bomb since loss of Marshall Starks.

Buffalo 28, Houston 17 — The Bills' happy string can't go on forever. But the rookie-loaded Oilers line-up doesn't have the stuff to stop the combination of Jack Kemp and Darryl Lamohica.

Oakland 24, San Diego 21 — Another upset. Al Davis has been having a tough year (1-5-1) but he has Sid Gillman's number. Clem Daniels and Billy Cannon are rolling. Cotton Davidson is rolling out and hitting Art Powell. Charges having injury trouble in linebacking and deep defense but Lance Alworth, Keith Lincoln and Paul Lowe are healthy.

Kansas City 21, Denver 7 — Denver broke its long losing streak at Chiefs' expense Oct. 11, 33-27. Doesn't figure to happen again. Broncs having problems in defensive backfield. Len Dawson supposed to be ready to go but Eddie Wilson has been fine back-up man.

NEW WOMEN'S GOLF CHAMP

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Another North and South Women's Golf Tournament was history today with a new champion — Mrs. John S. Haskell of Titusville, Pa.

Mrs. Haskell finished the 54-hole tournament Thursday with 245 on rounds of 80-81-84. She is president of the Pennsylvania State Women's Golf Association and has just turned 50, minimum age for the tournament.

In a second place tie were Mrs. Harrison S. Flippin of Douglasville, Pa., a former champion here, and Miss Betty Abernathy of Pittsburgh. Each had 247.

The defending champion, Miss Ada McKenzie, 74, of Ontario, Canada, was fourth at 251.

BIG ONE COMES UP FOR NAVY IN IRISH CONTEST

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Navy's football season, normally made or broken in the annual windup against Army, goes on the line a month early this year.

The date is Saturday, the target second-ranked Notre Dame — and if that doesn't throw a bit of a Halloween scare into the unbeaten Irish, there's always Roger Staubach.

The Middles, three-time losers, have been pointing toward this one — 38th meeting between the teams — with a passion usually reserved for their service academy rival. If any added incentive is needed, the return of All-America quarterback Staubach, recovered from a heel injury, to full-time duty should provide it.

While Navy and Staubach tangle with Notre Dame's vaunted defense, Ohio State tries to protect its No. 1 national ranking against another brilliant passer, Iowa's Gary Snook, in the Big Ten headline.

Elsewhere, Alabama, Arkansas, Nebraska and Oregon risk perfect records against conference opponents and unbeaten Georgia Tech, major independent power, meets Duke in a key intercollegiate clash.

Ohio State, seeking a sixth straight victory and the inside track to the Rose Bowl, could be in for a rough hour at Iowa City. The Buckeyes have been less than overpowering in previous visits and they'll be contending with the nation's third-ranking passer in Snook and No. 1 receiver in Earl Noonan.

Third-ranked Alabama, 6-0, meets Southeastern Conference rival Mississippi State. Ninth-ranked Louisiana State, 4-0-1, plays Mississippi and Florida. No. 10 and 4-1, goes against Auburn in other top SEC games.

Arkansas, 6-0, seeks to cement its No. 4 rank and Southwest Conference lead against Texas A&M. Sixth-ranked Texas, beaten only by the Razorbacks in six starts, has a SWC date with Southern Methodist.

High-scoring Nebraska must get past rugged Big Eight foe Missouri for victory No. 7. The Cornhuskers are No. 5 in the country. Surprising Oregon, also 6-0 and rated seventh, plays Stanford in a Pacific Athletic Conference game.

Georgia Tech, riding a 6-0 streak since quitting the SEC, meets its stiffest test thus far in the unbeaten, once-tied Blue Devils from the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Yellow Jackets are eighth in The Associated Press ratings.

The Southern Division standings show the Jersey Giants on top with an 8-1 record, although Newark, at 8-1-1 actually is tied. Pittsburgh Valley is in third at 8-2.

The Bears were tied, 24-24, by Richmond (-5-5-1) last week. The Rebels face the Ironmen in Munhall, Pa. Jersey City will be at Herkimer, N.Y., for a game with the Mohawk Valley Falcons. (-2-9). Newark faces a Sunday afternoon game at Harrisburg, (-2-8).

KELSO CAN TOP ROUND TABLE

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Kelso can dethrone Round Table as the world's richest horse Saturday.

The 7-year-old gelding from Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable needn't even win the two miles of the $100,000 added Jockey Club Gold Cup at Aqueduct for the fifth straight year. A second will be sufficient to send Kelly, as the four-time Horse of the Year is popularly known, to the top of the list.

Kelso has earned $1,732,772 and is only $17,097 away from Round Table's $1,749,869. With four starters, including the well regarded 3-year-olds Quadrangle and Roman Brother, the Gold Cup will gross $106,600 with $69,290 ticketed for the winner and $21,320 for second.

The race, with Milo Valenzuela again handling Kelso's reins, will be the popular champion's final test before he joins Gun Bow as the U.S. representative in the $

Ancient Holiday Combines Weirdest Customs Of All Ages

By ROBERT P. SALMON
BOSTON (AP) — Be happy that the tykes won't be demanding "trick or treat" in the name of Muck Olla Saturday night, dad.
They might burn down the homestead or beat you if you didn't come across.
Halloween is spooky fun. A few years ago it was pranks, some not so childish. A few hundred years ago, particularly in England, Ireland and Scotland, Halloween was dead serious — with emphasis on the dead. People went around with hearts in their mouths, trying to keep spooks and ghosts out of their houses.
Call it what you wish — Halloween, Hallowmas, All Hallow's even, snapple night, All Souls eve, nutcrack night, All Saints eve or even teanlay — the holiday is the weirdest we have.
It's a combination of an ancient Roman fruit festival and an old English harvest celebration, with a goodly dash of witchcraft from the Middle Ages.
Romans used to pause each autumn to give thanks to Pomona, goddess of fruits and gardens. That's where we get apples and nuts as part of Halloween.
In Britain, the harvests were over by the end of October and the English, the Celts and the Welsh used to hold festival in honor of the sun god.
GHOLISH INFLUENCE
The sorcery crept in when the Christian Church in England tried to suppress these pagan rites. Driven underground, the druids added Satan to their list of pagan deities. They held periodic meetings. Midnight was their favorite time. Black cats were considered delightful.
The Celtic year ended on Oct. 31 and these pastoral people called it the eve of Samhain. Samhain represented both the end of summer and a festival of the dead. The druids said ghosts and goblins went around on that night killing animals and stealing babies.
Muck Olla was a good guy. But the Celtic delinquents who used his name would go from house to house, demanding food and drink in the early druidic name. You came across if you wanted to live to see the next Halloween.

HOLD MINISTER ON MAIL COUNT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — J. Olan Jones, 62, of Chester, Pa., described by FBI agents as a gospel minister, was held in $1,000 bail Thursday on a charge of sending scurrilous literature through the mails, attacking President Johnson.
U.S. Commissioner Edward Furia held Jones for a further hearing today.
U.S. Atty. Drew J. T. O'Keefe issued the warrant for Jones' arrest as "a security matter as well as a violation of the law."
President Johnson was campaigning in Philadelphia most of the day.
O'Keefe said Jones used an Elwyn, Pa., post office box to send the pamphlet, entitled "A Communist Killed the President of the United States and the Liberals Blamed Patriotic Americans." It was signed by "The Christian Patriots."
Jones faces a possible one-year term and a $1,000 fine under a seldom-enforced 1941 law that election campaign literature sent through the mails must identify the sender.

REPUBLICAN-DEMOCRAT

By BEN DE FOREST
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Republicans gave Sen. Barry Goldwater a foot-stomping, cheering and roaring welcome Thursday night.
As the sun-tanned Republican presidential nominee strode onto the speakers' platform at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena, the capacity-plus crowd of about 15,000 rose and gave him a standing ovation that lasted 17 minutes.
The crowd waved American flags, placards and banners, yelled, whistled and chanted over and over again "We Want Barry—We Want Barry."
After the Arizona senator quieted them with utstretched hands and began his campaign speech, the crowd continued to interrupt him with applause as he attacked the Democratic administration.
WHISTLE-STOP
Earlier in the day, Goldwater rolled into Pittsburgh by train after a whistle-stop trip from Harrisburg through Central and Western Pennsylvania. He rode through downtown Pittsburgh by motorcade in a convertible just as the sidewalks were filled with thousands of homeward-bound workers.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — President Johnson appears to be trying to heal any rift among Pennsylvania Democrats left from the bitter primary fight for the U. S. Senate nomination last April.
Addressing a $100-a-plate Philadelphia Democratic Committee dinner at Convention Hall Thursday night, Johnson made it a point to single out both Genevieve Blatt and Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the State Supreme Court.
Miss Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, defeated Musmanno by a slim margin in the primary which wasn't decided until after litigation that reached the U. S. Supreme Court.
AN OLD FRIEND
At the start of his address, Johnson referred to Miss Blatt as "Senator Genevieve Blatt." He called Musmanno an old friend. Both sat at the head table among the throng of some 13,000 persons who attended the dinner.
In a special praise of Musmanno and also in calling on him to help elect Miss Blatt, the President said:
"Several years ago when I was majority leader of the Senate, late in the evening, we had a crisis develop. I called upon a very fine and able citizen that night to come from Pennsylvania to help me, to give me legal advice that was needed, and he gave me that help."

Claims Swedes Broke Nazi Code
STOCKHOLM (AP) — Eric Boheman, former Swedish ambassador to Washington, says the Swedish government cracked the Nazi code in World War II and relayed word to London that Germany would attack the Soviet Union.
Boheman said he met Sir Stafford Cripps, then British ambassador to Moscow, in Stockholm early in June, 1941. Cripps was going home to report that the Germans apparently would not attack the Soviet Union. But Boheman said he told Cripps an attack would be made between June 20 and 25. The invasion began at dawn June 22.
Boheman said two Swedish mathematicians reconstructed the German coding machine and the Swedes decoded messages until Germany altered its code system in 1942.

FIND TRUCKER VIOLATED LAW IN FATAL FIRE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal regulations governing the transportation of explosives were violated by the owner and driver of a truck which exploded June 26 at Marshalls Creek, Pa., killing six and injuring 13, the Interstate Commerce Commission reported Thursday.
The truck was operated by American Cyanamid Co., Wayne, N.J., and the driver was Albert J. Koda, of Port Carbon, Pa.
The ICC report said its investigation showed that the explosion was caused by a fire in the right rear tires of the trailer truck, which carried 26,000 pounds of nitro-carbo-nitrate, an oil-treated form of ammonium nitrate, and 4,000 pounds of dynamite together with 99 electric blasting caps.

It said the fire, which apparently resulted from continued operation of the truck after one of the tires had gone flat, heated the dynamite, which caused the ammonium nitrate and dynamite caps to explode.
The investigation left in doubt what happened to "explosives" signs which the company said the vehicle had before it left Pottsville, Pa. However, a passing truck driver noted the burning but unattended vehicle and summoned firemen and police. He said the signs were not evident. Koda told an ICC hearing earlier that the signs had blown off.

Believes Red China Can Produce Hydrogen Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Philip Abelson, a nuclear scientist and editor of Science magazine, says the Red Chinese could conceivably produce a hydrogen bomb in the latter part of the 1960s.
In an editorial in the latest issue of the magazine, Abelson said the possibility stems from indications reported by the Atomic Energy Commission that the Red Chinese used uranium 235 for the atomic device they exploded Oct. 16.
Dr. Abelson, reiterating views previously expressed in an interview, said the apparent ability of the Red Chinese to master the complex task of separating weapons-grade fissionable U235 from essentially nonfissionable U238 would expedite production of weapons-grade plutonium for nuclear reactors.
But he added in the editorial: "More serious is the greatly enhanced capability of producing tritium, a key constituent of thermonuclear bombs (H-bombs)."

KILL IN DARK
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has received bids from five firms for production of its "image intensification" device for seeing and killing an enemy in the dark.
The Army's command research and development laboratories have been working on the device for several years.
Development cost has totaled about $18 million. Army officials told a news conference Thursday that they believe the device might cost between $1,000 and $5,000 apiece in mass production.
The device uses three lens elements, each of which magnifies the image from the previous stage. Power is supplied by a small six-volt mercury battery which is amplified to 45,000 volts.

BROADER EDUCATION SAVE 6 MINERS IN SHAFT FIRE

WHITWELL, Tenn. (AP) — Alert coal miners saved six companions Thursday night by diverting smoke from a fiery mine shaft.
After being trapped for more than two hours behind a wall of smoke, the six miners emerged unharmed from Grays Creek mechanized mine, owned by Grundy Mining Co.
The fire erupted in the conveyor belt and filled the pit with heavy smoke. Thirty-five miners rushed outside and quickly reversed an air blower, which normally supplies fresh air to the shaft.
While the blower pulled smoke from the area where the six were trapped, the miners extinguished the fire.
There was no serious damage, except to the conveyor belt.

Tells How Mrs. Freeman Serves Wild Geese Or Ducks As Favorite Items

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

Be it wild ducks from the lakes of Minnesota or wild geese from the Eastern Shore of Maryland, Mrs. Orville L. Freeman knows how to cook them. In fact, she considers these two of her favorite items for a company menu. And her husband and the Sec. of Agriculture agrees.

MRS. TUNISON

While living in Minnesota, the Freemans frequently went duck and pheasant hunting. Now that they are in Washington, Sec. Freeman and son, Mike, hunt for geese along the Chesapeake Bay.

With either wild duck or wild goose, Mrs. Freeman serves wild rice and often red cabbage. Sometimes she browns apple wedges in butter, sprinkles them with cinnamon and pours 1 cup dry white wine over them. This, she says, makes a marvelous accompaniment to wild fowl.

When serving wild duck or geese to guests, Mrs. Freeman usually also serves turkey or roast chicken — for those who don't care for wild game.

A typical company menu at the Freemans' might be ducks, wild rice, a vegetable (most likely Italian-style green beans with pimento strips), a big tossed salad of grapefruit, pomegranate seeds and greens, rolls, and blueberry pie. Wild blueberries are best for the pie, Mrs. Freeman says — especially if you pick them yourself.

CHILD HAS ADVANTAGES

Understanding the environment which surrounds the youngest child can help you to understand him.

As the youngest child he has certain advantages. He never has to move to another position in the family. He can seek help from older brothers and sisters. He may learn more quickly by seeing examples set by other children. He may be more care-free because he is not given so much responsibility as the other children.

The youngest child may often be confused because he gets directions from brothers and sisters and from his parents. If advice conflicts, he may ignore it all.

When parents have reared other children they may try to bring this child up in the same way, forgetting that each child is different from every other child. Sometimes parents are just too relaxed in their dealings with their youngest child. They may give him too much freedom and not enough guidance. Frequently, the youngest child is unconsciously spoiled as mother realizes he is her last baby. This could result in a warped personality that will be a handicap throughout life.

The child in each position — oldest, middle, youngest — has problems and advantages attached to that position. All are different. They vary with each family, with the number of children, and the ages and sex of the children.

READ FABRIC LABELS

Read labels and hand tags carefully when you buy stretch fabrics and ready-made garments.

Stretch fabrics should meet the same requirements you expect a similar nonstretch fabric. Proper appearance, hand, colorfastness, stability, durability, and neatness should not be sacrificed for stretching ease.

When shopping for stretch garments, comfort, ease, and freedom of movement are important. The amount of stretch a garment should have will be determined by its use. A man's sport coat does not need to stretch so much as a woman's garment. Degree of extension, speed of recovery back into shape, and amount of stretch needed for holding pose and comfort are other important considerations.

Also check the direction of the stretch. It should be vertical or lengthwise for slacks and similar garments and horizontal or crosswise for skirts and sport jackets.

You'll want stretch garments to fit properly and look well on you. If you buy them in the made of other fabrics, you should avoid alterations to return to the store.

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) —

There's no log cabin in the 1964 presidential campaign, absolutely no oratory and utterly no wit. But President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater can hold their own against anyone with clichés.

But, if what they've been saying about each other makes some people a little bilious, it's been mild compared with the slander of other campaigns.

Neither Johnson nor Goldwater emerged from a log cabin. So the legend of the poor boy who made good has no attraction this year.

Johnson's origin may have been modest, but it wasn't poverty-stricken, and now that he acknowledges wealth of at least $3.5 million from a radio and television station owned by him and his wife he can't campaign as a poor man.

Neither can Goldwater. He never had to look for a job in his life, except when he got into politics and ran for election. He was born into a family that owned a department store and had a job ready and waiting for him.

And when he did go to work in it he was soon running it. Rather happily, too. His worth now is put at least $1.7 million. It's no wonder they don't spend any time talking about their lives and hard times.

The dictionary describes oratory as "the exercise of eloquence." But, while oratory in defense of an issue is no vice, eloquence in pursuit of votes is not necessarily a virtue if they can be won with plain talk.

This may explain why Johnson and Goldwater sound more like politicians than statesmen. Johnson's speech Thursday, saying Tuesday's election will prove "there is not going to be another crack in the Liberty Bell," will not be recorded as one of the imperishable campaign utterances.

And Goldwater's statement that the "overriding issue in this campaign is what kind of America we are going to have tomorrow?" — proves the point made years ago by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, Illinois Democrat and a very learned man.

He said in today's politics the emphasis is on exposition rather than oratory.

Outside of Goldwater's crack that ohmson represented "daddyism" there hasn't been a memorable moment of oratory in the whole race.

Only some of the races of the past are remembered for their wit, and this isn't one of them. Can you remember one funny line from Johnson or Goldwater?

There has been nothing to match Harold Ickes' remark in 1940 that the Republican candidate, Wendell Willkie, the big businessman, was the "barefoot boy from Wall Street."

The tart Ickes, secretary of the interior in President Roosevelt's Cabinet, was in good form that year, as he showed by his confession that he didn't listen to Thomas Dewey, who failed to get the GOP nomination, because "I have a baby of my own."

MILD IN COMPARISON

Goldwater has called Johnson a "phony" and a "faker" who is a "little loose with the truth." And he has made a hobby of announcing there is corruption in the Johnson administration.

Johnson has been milder — although his trigger-happy implications hardly are — and has contented himself with calling Goldwater an impulsive "ranting, raving demagogue."

But all this is like an innocent grin compared with some of the things said by and about politicians in years gone.

President John Adams was called a semimaniac, Thomas Jefferson an "anti-Christ," Grover Cleveland was accused of fathering an illegitimate child and when he won the presidency Republicans chorused:

"Ma, ma, where's my pa? Gone to the White House, ha, ha, ha."

SHARE OF CLICHES

In the field of clichés Johnson and Goldwater seem no better or worse than presidential candidates of the past although they contribute their share, like these:

By Johnson — "We must keep our eyes on the stars and our feet on the ground." And by Goldwater to the voters — "I think you're reaching the end of

MAGAZINES, NEWSPAPERS VOTE FOR LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — A tabulation issued Thursday by Editor & Publisher, newspaper trade magazine, had 440 daily newspapers calling for election of President Johnson and 359 supporting Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"As of now, 941 — more than half — of the nation's dailies remain mute on a choice for the presidency," said the magazine. "This is an unusual number in this category."

Editor & Publisher said the pro-Johnson newspapers have an aggregate daily circulation of 26,997,400 to 8,977,214 for papers supporting Goldwater.

Editor & Publisher said publishers of each of the 1,740 dailies listed in the magazine's international year book for 1964 were asked to state their stands — Johnson, Goldwater, independent or undecided.

The report said that of the 1,036 which replied, 42.4 per cent were for Johnson and 34.7 per cent for Goldwater. An independent stand was stated by 22.9 per cent, representing 237 newspapers with an aggregate circulation of 7,638,727. The remaining 704 ballots were either marked "undecided" or were not returned.

The appraised value or renewals was merely anticipatory of future profit or a possible sale of the business as a going concern, and was not, in fact, actually realized as an asset of the corporation. When the corporation was declared bankrupt this so-called asset vanished. Cancer Vigilists Ask LBJ To Lift Ban On Krebiozen

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — A sit-in group of Krebiozen drug users who "do not believe our government will abandon us and let us die" sent a personal plea today to President Johnson.

The 17 keeping a vigil in the outer office of Anthony J. Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, want the President to lift the federal ban on interstate shipment of the controversial drug which the government has ruled is worthless against cancer.

COMPOSE TELEGRAM

Before dawn broke over the capital, members of the Citizens Committee for Cancer Survivors on Krebiozen drew up a telegram to Johnson.

It said: "We appeal to you to lift (the) ban for those patients now using Krebiozen by executive authority exercisable in disaster affecting American lives."

"Your intervention would be received by our people and the world as a magnificent act of humanitarianism."

Most of the 17 keeping the vigil have cancer, a few do not.

SLEPT NEAR OFFICE

Through the long night, some of the sicker patients in the group slept on mattresses just outside Celebrezze's office.

Spokesmen for the group said government personnel had been polite to them, making no effort to force them to leave and permitting food to be brought in to those conducting the demonstration.

"I wish they would be as kind to our lives as to our visit here," one man said.

PROTEST INDICEMENTS

The demonstrators came to Washington after the developer of the drug, Dr. Stevan Durovic, and his brother Marko were indicted in Chicago by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to put the drug into interstate commerce with intent to defraud.

The Durovics surrendered Thursday to federal authorities, and U.S. Dist. Judge Sam Perry set bond at $500,000 each, reportedly the highest ever set in a criminal federal prosecution in Chicago.

STATE FEARS FOREST FIRES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, says the state's forest lands are dry and Pennsylvanians should be especially careful with fire.

"The unseasonably warm weather combined with the excessively dry condition of the forest floor in many parts of the state is of deep concern to our forest protection personnel," Goddard said in a statement Thursday.

Goddard particularly asked the more than 800,000 resident hunters who are expected to take to the fields and forests Saturday — opening day of the small game season — to exercise extreme caution with fire.

Pedestrian Deaths Tend To Increase

HARRISBURG (AP) — Harry H. Brainerd, commissioner of traffic safety, says the season is approaching during which the number of pedestrian deaths tends to increase.

He cautioned pedestrians and motorists alike to be especially cautious so that the state's 1964 pedestrian death toll will not exceed he last year's toll.

"HOT LINE" IS NOT USED FOR ROUTINE TALK

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington-Moscow "hot line" has stood idle while President Johnson exchanged messages with the new leaders of the Soviet Union.

This may come as a surprise to many people who, judging by inquiries about the hot line operation, apparently have the impression that it is a regular channel of communications between the White House and the Kremlin.

U.S. officials said today, however, that in fact the line has never been used for substantial exchanges of views between the American and Soviet governments. The reason is that when it was opened Aug. 31, 1963, both governments had already reached agreement that it would be employed only in times of crisis.

FOR EXTREME DANGER
The theory behind creation of the special communications channel is that in a moment of extreme danger the ability of the President of the United States and the leaders of the Soviet Union to send messages to each other directly and in secret might help to avoid actions which would plunge the world into nuclear war.

The agreement to establish a line was reached following the Cuban missile crisis of October 1962. During the exchanges between the late President John F. Kennedy and former Premier Khrushchev some messages were given out publicly as soon as they were dispatched to one capital or the other because news wires could transmit them so much more quickly than they could be handled through ordinary diplomatic channels.

TESTED DAILY
The hot line, which is tested every day, is actually two telegraph circuits which can readily handle messages in both directions. There is also a duplex radio circuit which would be used as a fallback channel in case the land line between the Pentagon and Moscow should break down at a critical moment.

Theoretically if the hot line had to be used in the near future, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin would be the man at the other end since he is the head of the Soviet government.

Open All Lanes On New By-Pass

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission today opened all lanes of the toll road's new $7.5 million Laurel Hill bypass, under construction since August, 1962.

The bypass, which eliminates a traffic bottleneck at the Laurel Hill tunnel, has been open on a limited basis for the past month.

Joseph J. Lawler, chairman of the Turnpike Commission, described the 3.3 mile bypass as a milestone in the state's plans to modernize the toll road by building dual two-lane tunnels or by constructing bypasses around tunnels.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The faith Anthony Casamento's parents gave him as a young boy served him well on Guadalcanal. Advancing on two enemy machine gun nests, Anthony and 14 other marines fell under the murderous fire. The others were all killed. Casamento's squad leader and close buddy died in his arms. Anthony said a prayer for him and laid him down, and then, although wounded, managed to knock out one enemy machine gun before losing consciousness. For 22 years thereafter, totally disabled from more than a dozen wounds, Anthony Casamento has continued to live by faith. He is typical of the many veterans whose faith has carried them through the horror of war and its aftermath.

Prelates Oppose New Look At Birth Control; Insist Parents Must Trust In God

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Leading conservative prelates argued today against a new look at birth control by the Roman Catholic Church. They told the Vatican Ecumenical Council that married couples should trust in Divine Providence.

Two Vatican Curia cardinals — Alfredo Ottaviani and Michael Browne — rose in the council St. Peter's Basilica to oppose demand by other prelates for fearlessness re-examination of all aspects of marriage morality.

Cardinals and bishops, many of them leading progressives, said Thursday the problem must not be avoided in the current council debate on its schema on modern world problems.

OPPOSE PLANNING
Cardinal Ottaviani, secretary of the powerful Vatican Holy Office, said he disagreed with present wording in the Schema under debate that married couples should be free to plan the size of their families.

"This is something unheard of in the past ages of the church. Married couples should never doubt Divine Providence," Cardinal Browne, Irish-born Dominican theologian who has worked in Rome for years, told the council: "We must stress that the primary end of marriage is the procreation and education of children."

Speakers had praised the schema Thursday for avoiding this traditional church teaching, that procreation in marriage is primary with precedence over love and sex.

Cardinal Browne said family planning was a subject "about which a discussion cannot usefully be held."

TRUST IN GOD
Several other bishops, arguing along the same lines as Cardinal Ottaviani, said the schema should emphasize trust in God's providence in bringing children into the world.

The council is deep in debate on marriage problems and other issues of the modern world. The theologians said a definite shift is coming in the church's traditional outlook on the sexual side of marriage, but none would predict how soon and how far Catholic dogma would be altered.

"We are in a stage of transition, and all the problems of such a stage surely exist," said the Rev. Arthur McCormack of Belgium's Louvain University. "A poor couple that is sincerely worried wants the answers tonight. It's not that easy."

Leading prelates said in the council meeting Thursday that the church's position must be revised on the basis of modern science, that churchmen should have not reason to fear a deep investigation, and that conjugal love has as equal a divine basis as the command to procreate.

Girls Must Plan For Dual Careers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Nine out of 10 girls today will be gainfully employed at some time and "they must be helped early in their teens to prepare them for the dual role of homemakers and workers," a federal official said today.

"A revolution is occurring in the patterns of women's lives — a revolution which requires that girls develop a new self-image that must begin in the early teens," said Miss Rose Terlin, chief of the employment opportunities branch of the U.S. Department of Labor.

She said in a speech to the New Jersey Nurses Association convention that greater economic demands of the family "more and more require a two-pay-check household."

REDS IN EUROPE ACCEPT SOVIET OUSTER ALIBI

MOSCOW (AP) — European Communist parties are falling into line behind the new Soviet leadership, apparently accepting Kremlin explanations that Nikita Khrushchev was removed for bungling in the Cuban crisis, the rift with Peking and an assortment of other failures.

Official Kremlin statements on Khrushchev's removal are couched in general terms, but Communist sources said a document containing 29 charges — including those on Cuba and Red China — is being circulated in Soviet Communist party units.

HUNGARY IS FIRST
The Hungarian Communist party was the first to endorse Khrushchev's removal, declaring last Sunday that he had made "regrettable mistakes."

Polish party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka on Wednesday said the Soviet party's leaders had "grounds" to accept Khrushchev's resignation.

A French Communist delegation sent to Moscow to obtain explanations for the power shift returned home Thursday after issuing a communique emphasizing solidarity of the French and Soviet Reds.

The communique made no mention of Khrushchev. But it said the two parties had frank and friendly talks and would "continue consolidating the fraternal relations, bonds of traditional friendship and mutual confidence, which exist between" them.

ITALIANS MEET
An Italian Communist delegation began meeting with Soviet leaders after the French left. Communist sources said the Italians also wanted to ask about Khrushchev.

The Soviet Communists will begin talks with a Danish delegation Friday. An Austrian delegation also is in Moscow. John Gollan, general secretary of Britain's Communist party, said in London he and George Matthews, editor of the London Daily Worker, would go to Moscow next week to "discuss replacement of Mr. Khrushchev and problems in Soviet policy."

SURGEONS GIVE DOG NEW HEART IN EXPERIMENT

By BERNIE GOULD
NEW YORK (AP) — A medical team has taken a giant step toward the day when surgeons may replace an ailing human heart with one taken from a dead person.

The team reports that a mongrel puppy which received a heart transplanted from another, unrelated dog is still alive and "very active" six months later—a record.

The doctors named her Eterna. "As her name might imply, she's expected to have a normal life expectancy," according to leader of the medical team, Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, director of surgical services at Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn.

Eterna was five or six weeks old when she underwent the transplant last April 24 at the hospital's Edward Neimeth Institute for Medical Research. "She's kind of a pet around here," Dr. Kantrowitz said Thursday. "She has the freedom of the institute and romps around as she pleases, except at night when she's kept in a special room."

The team also reported that it is working out a way to store the surgically removed heart of a dog for more than 24 hours. The technique is not perfected, Dr. Kantrowitz said, but it does portend a start toward the development of human "heart banks" for cardiac patients.

PUC Approves Gas Extension

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania and Southern Gas Co., Sayre, has the green light from the Public Utility Commission to extend service to Wydox Twp. in Bradford County.

The company said it will install 22,000 feet of pipe to serve 150 residential and commercial customers. Cost of extension is estimated at $148,000, the PUC said in approving the move Thursday.

COUPLE DIES IN HOUR

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Jacob R. Mohler, 74, of Lancaster, died Thursday night of a heart ailment.

His wife, Ruth, 61, when informed of his death, collapsed and died one hour later, apparently of a heart attack.

The phrase "ear marked" comes from the English farmers' practice of notching the ears of their cattle to identify them permanently.

TALK OF HIKE IN PRICES OF STEEL FADING

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Talk of a steel price rise died down today, apparently spiked by disappearing word from President Johnson.

But the question remained: Was it a pre-election lull on the part of steel leaders who have warmly argued for a boost recently, or has the President—plus glowing profit reports—given them enduring pause?

The Johnson point that steel profits, anemic two years ago, now are swelling rapidly was underscored Thursday when Bethlehem Steel Corp., the No. 2 producer, reported that July-September earnings had jumped 105 per cent from a year earlier, rising to $36.3 million or 76 cents a common share.

For the first nine months of this year profits climbed 58 per cent to $104,928,100, a seven-year high for such a period and more than the company earned in all of 1963.

Even so, Edmund F. Martin, Bethlehem chairman, said the nine-month margin—a 6.3 per cent return on sales and 7.8 per cent on invested capital—wasn't good enough.

"If we were satisfied, I would hope somebody would tie me," Martin told newsmen.

This was roughly what several other steel company executives have been saying.

Martin refused to say anything about prices, even why he wouldn't discuss them. Three months ago he indicated support for higher prices.

A tally of 1964 earnings of the 10 largest steel companies at the three-quarter mark showed profit of $576.5 million, up from $457.1 million in the like period of 1963 for a gain of 26 per cent. Johnson again defended the administration's price-wage guideposts, invoked in steel price-wage maneuvering 2½ years ago, as "increasingly important" in the economy's advanced stage of expansion.

He said that the guideposts, geared to a productivity concept, provide a useful criterion for responsible business and labor leaders and are not intended to straitjacket prices or wages.

Grange Opposes Reapportionment

WELLSBORO, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania State Grange is on record opposed to legislative apportionment on the sole basis of population.

The giant farm organization adopted a resolution here Thursday contending that each county should have at least one representative and/or senator in the General Assembly.

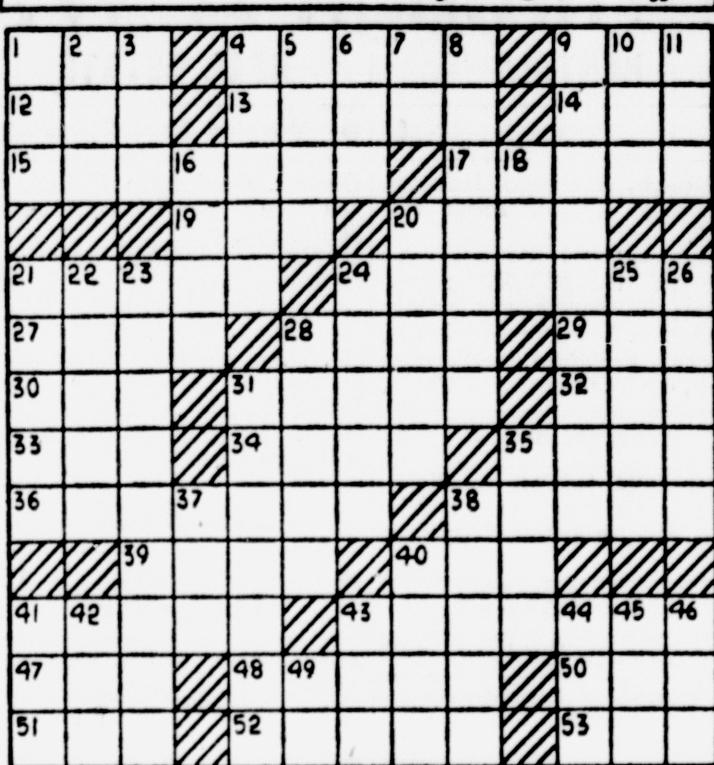

John W. Scott of Butler R.D. 5 was re-elected state master as the Grange ended its 92nd annual convention. The three-day meeting attracted some 4,000 persons.

Other officers elected were Richard D. VanNoy of Troy, Bradford County, secretary; A. Wayne Readinger, Fleetwood, overseer, and John H. Minor, Waynesburg, treasurer.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Ralph Korngold, 81, historian and one of the framers of the Socialist platform in 1908, died Tuesday.

More than 1,700,000 persons in the United States own stock in automotive firms.

E. GERMANY OPENS BERLIN WALL AGAIN

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany opened the Berlin wall for the second time in three years to West Berliners today and they began passing through to visit relatives in the Soviet sector of the divided city.

Within an hour, about 1,000 persons made the crossing. The wall will remain open to persons with the necessary passes until Nov. 12 — over the All Saints' holiday. It is the first of four visiting periods within the next 12 months.

At the Oberbaumbrücke checkpoint, the first crossers began waiting in line shortly after 5 a.m. It was a damp morning with temperatures just a few degrees above freezing.

The visitors carried big shopping bags filled mostly with such items as butter, coffee, cocoa and fresh fruit. They are scarce or very expensive in the

MOSTLY OLDER FOLK

Most of those crossing over were older people since today is a working day. Only persons working for government offices were given the day off.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Rear Adm. Paul P. Blackburn Jr. today became the senior United Nations Command member of the joint armistice commission which occasionally meets at Panmunjom to negotiate matters concerning the Korean armistice.

Blackburn succeeds Air Force Maj. Gen. Cecil E. Combs, who is being reassigned to Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio. The admiral formerly was chief of the joint control and command requirement group in the office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington.

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — President Zalman Shazar and his brother, Dr. Abraham Rubashov, were reunited at Lydda Airport Thursday night when Rubashov arrived to settle in Israel.

Shazar, whose Russian name is Rubashov, personally requested Soviet authorities several months ago to permit his brother to emigrate. Dr. Rubashov, a Leningrad physician, is 71. The president is 75.

TEANECK, N.J. (AP) — Associate Justice William O. Douglas says the work load on the U.S. Supreme Court is much lighter now than it was 25 years ago.

"In 1939 when I first joined the court, I heard 300 hours of arguments," he said. "Last year we heard 223 hours. Now we work a five-day week, but we used to work a six-day week. 'The myth about the Supreme Court is that it's overworked.' Douglas spoke Thursday to the students of Fairleigh Dickinson University.

David Alter, 75, publisher of the Baltimore Jewish Times, died Thursday. She also was the former owner and publisher of the Jewish Criterion in Pittsburgh.

East. Passes through the wall were good for only one day, until midnight.

2ND AGREEMENT

The rush through the iron curtain was not as great today as it was on the first day of the Christmas-New Year visiting period.

About 800,000 West Berliners with relatives in East Berlin were eligible to apply for wall passes under an agreement signed last month between West Berlin and East Germany.

This was the second such agreement concluded since the Reds built the wall in August, 1961, to prevent the escape of East Germans. The first agreement ran for 18 days over Christmas and New Year. Immediately after it expired, new talks began and lasted for 10 months.

CONSCIENCE MONEY PAID

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's so-called "conscience fund" was $400 richer today.

The fund was established by state treasurer Grace M. Sloan from money received anonymously through the mail from persons who felt they had cheated the state.

Mrs. Sloan announced Thursday that an envelope containing eight $50 bills was received at the Treasury Department's bureau of public assistance disbursements in Scranton.

The envelope was postmarked Dearborn, Mich., and contained, in addition to the money, a piece of paper bearing a single word: "Restitution."

Mrs. Sloan said the donor probably was a former recipient of public assistance benefits.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sam Hearn, 75, radio and television actor known as "Sam Schlepman" on the Jack Benny Show, died Tuesday while working on a movie set at Universal Studios.

"Princeton" Hairdos For 30 High School Boys Net Three-Day Suspensions

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP) — About 30 to 35 boys are in the doghouse at Greensburg-Salem High School.

Their hair styles don't meet the requirements laid down by Principal Paul Breen.

The boys received three-day suspensions Wednesday for wearing what they describe as "Princeton" hairdos, featured by tufts of hair falling across the brow.

The exact number of pupils under suspension was not learned officially, and Breen wouldn't comment except to say that he hopes to work out the problem.

HAD WARNING

Robert Nicely, superintendent of Greensburg schools, said pupils were warned last Wednesday that unconventional haircuts or dress would not be tolerated beyond Tuesday of this week.

"We have tried to keep the kids from going off the deep end on hair style to the point where it is vulgar," he said.

After being banned from classes Wednesday, some of the boys marched through Greensburg carrying signs. "We've been robbed," said one of the placards. "I am a victim of haircuts persecution," said another.

Man Is Arrested For Guns In Car

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A young man who picked a most inopportune time to drive on the Penn. Lincoln Parkway West with two rifles and a pistol in his car—which is what police said they found — faces grand jury action on a firearms charge.

State police arrested William E. Fisher Jr., 24, of suburban Bellevue Tuesday night shortly before President Johnson's motorcade passed en route to the city.

A justice of the peace held Fisher for court Wednesday night on a charge of violating the uniform firearms act—illegal possession of firearms. He was released on $2,000 bond.

Questioned by Secret Service men after his arrest, Fisher said he kept the weapons in his auto so they would be handy for hunting.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

No national election campaign in the 20th century has embarrassed or bored more Americans than the present one. Everybody will be glad to get it over with — and go back to discussing something which makes them feel less uncomfortable, such as the weather.

To prefer the rose over any other flower is a sign of conformity and lack of imagination. Dandelions are by far more inspiring.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER

Britain has the most handsome spies, Russia the dullest looking ones — and America the most expensive.

The surest way for a girl to make an enemy of a man over 40 is to hesitate when he starts to kiss her — and then turn her cheek.

To get along with women, the thing a man needs most to remember is to call them "ladies" if they are under 25, and "girls" if they are over 25.

I have never met a mynah bird that ever said anything truly memorable.

THE HAPPIEST TIME

You are always happiest in this world when you are humming a tune — and don't realize you are doing it.

The reason more men would rather talk to a bartender than a doctor is that the bartender isn't too busy to give them the sympathy they need — and he fills his prescriptions on the spot.

I always feel sorry for people with such lousy personalities they have to start a quarrel to keep from being lonely.

A successful executive is the one who got ahead by the means he didn't write.

MOST PHILOSOPHIC

Wrestlers are the gentlest and most philosophic of all professional athletes. They are clowns who act with their muscles, but in their hearts would rather play "Hamlet."

No husband really trusts his wife if she breaks into applause when he makes a fool of himself by standing on his head at a party.

Nature has a way of accommodating itself to necessary changes. For example, as he grows older, a general's chest always broadens enough to provide room to hang his medals.

NO INDIVIDUALITY

The most sheeplike creatures in modern life are vice presidents. If one gets a new cushion for his swivel chair, all the others in the firm have to have a new one, too. I never met a vice president who had the individuality to grow a beard.

A fellow who walks under a ladder doesn't thereby prove he isn't superstitious. It is more likely that he is just showing off.

A guy who makes his dog sit up and beg at home usually does the same trick himself at the office.

JUDGE BURTON OF HIGH COURT PASSES AWAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retired Supreme Court Justice Harold H. Burton is dead at 76. He died at George Washington University Hospital Wednesday from a combination of illnesses. Failing health had forced him to retire from the Supreme Court six years ago.

Burton, while serving as a Republican senator from Ohio, was appointed to the court in 1945 by Democratic President Harry S. Truman. They had been close friends when Truman was a senator from Missouri.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, when informed of Burton's death, issued a statement saying:

HIGH ESTEEM

"I am sure that in its long history no justice on the court has been held in higher esteem by his colleagues. His opinions written for the court will be a lasting memorial to him, and will long be studied as a part of the development of American jurisprudence."

In one of his most significant opinions, Burton issued the ruling that outlawed racial segregation on railroad dining cars. It was the first in a line of major rulings by the Supreme Court on civil rights.

Burton began his political career as an Ohio state legislator in 1928 and became mayor of Cleveland in 1935, running as an independent Republican opposed to the regular party leaders. In 1940, he had to buck the Republican state organization to win the nomination for senator. He then won the election.

POLARIS MISSILE PLEASES NAVY

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The navy has demonstrated that its Polaris missile can perform flawlessly after months in a steel launching cocoon aboard a patrolling nuclear submarine, informed sources report.

The sources report that a sub which had been on underwater station for perhaps as long as three years successfully fired one of its undersea weapons Wednesday from beneath the surface of the Atlantic ocean far offshore. The Polaris, reportedly an early A1 model, had been aboard the craft since it went on station.

The submarine reportedly was one of the earlier vessels which went on patrol in late 1960 with the Polaris A1 model. These craft are being brought off patrol for modifications to accommodate the longer-range A3 model. The George Washington is the first scheduled for an overhaul.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)

Dr. Floyd M. McDowell, former member of the First Presidency, the highest governing body of the reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, died Tuesday. McDowell, in his 70s, was associated most of his life with Graceland College, the denomination's school at Lamoni, Iowa.

first term as senator when Truman appointed him to the Supreme Court. Truman broke precedent by attending the court session in which Burton was sworn in. The president said he wanted to pay tribute to a long-time personal friend.

Two memorial services will be held for Burton, the first at All Souls Unitarian church in Washington, the second at the First Unitarian church in Cleveland.

JACKIE COOGAN HAS REACHED 50TH BIRTHDAY

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The Kid" is 50.

There is still a touch of boyishness in his face, though his head is slick as a casaba — caused partly by age, partly shaved for a television series. His outlook is youthful as ever.

Jackie Coogan at the half-century mark is a thoroughly alive legend. At 16 months he made his movie debut in a film starring Bryant Washburn in Chicago. At 2 he toddled onstage during his father's vaudeville act and so convulsed the audience that he became part of the act.

At 4 he was playing in the Coogan act in Los Angeles when Charlie Chaplin happened to be Henry G. Seed, 73, former Midwestern representative for the Schnell Publishing Co. of New York, died Tuesday. He had been with the publishing firm 35 years before his retirement in 1961.

in the audience. Jackie seemed to be just the right boy for a movie the comedian had been planning. "The Kid." Jackie's face, cap askew, eyes furtively searching for the cop on the beat, became famous the world over.

HE'S UNCLE FESTER

On a day off from playing Uncle Fester in "The Addams Family" television series, Jackie relaxed in his modest North Hollywood home and talked about his birthday this week and other matters.

"I didn't have a party or anything like that," he said. "I dropped by CBS to chat with Red Skelton. Then I came home and had a quiet dinner with my wife and daughter, who is 11. My wife cooked a goose I had shot at the opening of duck season, and we had a cake."

Jackie was the first great child star of films, and he set the pattern for those to follow.

"We pioneered the commercial tieup market," he recalled. "At one time my name was on 50 or 60 different items, from dolls to pencil boxes. Peck and Peck paid us $100,000 per year to put out a Jackie Coogan line of clothes. Millions and millions of caps were sold."

LOTS OF POSSIBILITIES

Where did all the money go? Not to Jackie. After turning 21,

LOST, BUT IN OWN LANGUAGE
PALISADE, N.J. (AP) — Palisades Amusement Park has on its staff persons speaking 27 different languages.

"Now," says Irving Rosenthal, the park's president, "we can page for the parents of lost children in any language ranging from Russian to Swahili, and make the lost youngster feel right at home with his native tongue while waiting for his parents to come and pick him up."

The National Stadium, main arena for the XVIII Olympiad, was remodeled. The seats — originally designed for the slender Japanese physique — were widened for the increased comfort of Westerners.

he sued his mother and stepfather for an accounting of the $4 million he said he earned as a minor. He never saw the money. California enacted "the Jackie Coogan law" which now protects the earnings of child actors.

During his near-50 years in show business, Jackie has made 125 movies, numerous tours in vaudeville, including one with his first wife, Betty Grable; legitimate plays and night clubs, plus 750 television shows. "TV is where my future lies," said Jackie. "I think there is no end to its possibilities."

Re-elect D. Elmer HAWBAKER

State Senator

The choice is between decision and drift. Remember during eight years under city dominated Democratic administrations Pennsylvania drifted into economic decline, high unemployment, deficits and a nearly defunct Unemployment Compensation Fund. State Senator Hawbaker and other Republican Legislators made courageous decisions. The results: Pennsylvania's economy is growing, unemployment is below the National average, more jobs, State deficit wiped out with increased funds to schools, and Unemployment Compensation Fund on sound basis. For results vote Hawbaker!

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Before the presidential campaign, Dean Burch, chairman of the Republican National Committee, said Sen. Barry Goldwater would not become involved in 40 to 50 issues but on the "vital ones" because "too many issues and the campaign can come unglued."

It's unglued now. It has been all over the lot and no newspaper reader could keep up with the statements of the candidates unless he kept a notebook, although from the start until now there were just two basic issues and they have remained valid and vivid all the way through. Everything else said in this campaign has been piled on top of them.

Johnson is for big government with a broad, and broadening, responsibility for the general welfare; Goldwater is for less government, less government help, more reliance by the individual on himself.

CAN'T SEPARATE THEM

The second issue is inextricably tied up with the first and voters can't separate them. Which of the candidates, Johnson or Goldwater, can better be trusted with running the government and all that means in domestic problems, foreign dilemmas, and no doubt some crisis?

On top of them Goldwater added these as issues: Bobby Baker, Billie Sol Estes, South Viet Nam, "waning U.S. prestige around the world," the nation's whole foreign policy, morality in government, peace, corruption in government, the choice between "socialism and individual freedom."

But there were more: control of nuclear weapons, handling NATO, the United Nations, Cuba, Castro, dealings with communism, spending, space development, plane development, American defenses, Red China, Americans for Democratic Action, civil rights, agriculture.

FIRST ON "EXTREMISM"

At first Democrats made their big pitch on Goldwater's "extremism." This was, in effect, a personal attack on him and it has remained a consistent Democratic tactic which got under his skin. But Goldwater has consistently made personal attacks on Johnson.

Johnson through it all, perhaps because from the beginning he felt sure of winning or because the polls convinced him by showing him away out in front month after month, has used a fast brush when it came to any serious or detailed discussion of most of what Goldwater considered issues.

Johnson apparently didn't think it necessary to lay out new programs, at least in understandable detail. Goldwater was just as vague on this score. All the while, the Democrats kept needing Goldwater, and they're doing it now, with the suggestion he is trigger happy. He bought the bait and has used up a lot of his time denying he is.

PERSONAL ATTACKS

Now, near the very end they're doing what they've been doing all along: attacking each other personally.

They're not spending much time any more on nuclear triggers or Viet Nam or NATO or Cuba. What they've been saying in the past few days speaks for itself.

Johnson is picturing Goldwater as too reckless for the presidency and says the real issues are all the programs Goldwater has voted against, like the Civil Rights Act, the nuclear test-ban treaty, low income housing, and so on.

DESERVE BETTER

Goldwater is whirling around the country calling Johnson arrogant, power-hungry, selfish and a "little loose with the truth," and warning that to follow the say of Johnson would be "national suicide." He says, without saying how, "We must chart a new course of peace and freedom" and, as he has from the beginning, is charging corruption in government and calling for morality.

No wonder it has been a gummy, unenlightening campaign with both candidates laying out their case on a level more fit for kids than adults, which is hardly a tribute by either candidate to the American intelligence. The voters deserve better than they've been getting.

What is the argument between the Russian and Chinese Communists all about?

Russian Communists believe:
External encirclement plus internal demoralization plus atomic blackmail equals progressive surrender.

Chinese Communists believe in:
Internal violent revolution stimulated and led by the Communist Party.

Reduced to essentials, the Russians and Chinese disagree about one thing—what is the quickest and surest way to conquer the United States.

AREAS OF AGREEMENT

There are many more points of agreement between the Russian and Chinese Communists than there are points of disagreement. Both agree on the following:

1. The United States of America is the source of most of the evil in the world and must be destroyed. Both concurred in this definition of the United States which was signed by 81 Communist Parties of the World: "the greatest international exploiter, the center of world reaction, the chief bulwark of modern colonialism, the international gendarme, the main force of aggression and war, and the enemy of the world."
2. The International Communist Movement is the instrument to accomplish this destruction of America.
3. The program by which this destruction is to be carried out is called "Peaceful Co-existence." Both define this as conquest without thermonuclear war.

AREAS OF DISAGREEMENT

The Russians and Chinese disagree over the best methods to follow under the title of peaceful coexistence. The Russian Communists believe that the formula of conquest is—external encirclement plus internal demoralization equals progressive surrender.

RUSSIAN

To carry out their policy, the Russian Communists believe that they should:

1. Encourage wars of "national liberation" in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.
2. Neutralize Western Europe.
3. Demoralize and isolate the United States. Conquest would then come about through a series of "accommodations" with the external encircling, blackmailing communist-dominated world power. They desire a government in power in the U.S. that will agree to these "Accommodations."

POLICY WITHIN AMERICA

The official American Communist Party under the leadership of Gus Hall is an obedient servant of the Russian Communists. In accord with Russian strategy, their policy is:

1. Build an image of law abiding respectability for U.S. and Russian communists.
2. Create the image of a phony fascist danger in the United States growing out of an alleged ultra-right conspiracy.
3. Focus the energies of the party on this alleged ultra-right conspiracy by a vicious attack on Senator Barry Goldwater.
4. Give qualified support to programs of the present administration.
5. Infiltrate and influence the Civil Rights movement but keep within its mainstream by supporting the established Civil Rights leaders and organizations.

THERMONUCLEAR WAR DIFFERENCES

On the record, the Russian Communists have shown greater thermonuclear adventurism. It was the Russian Communists who placed the missiles in Cuba and brought the world to the brink of thermonuclear destruction. The Chinese Communists did not reprove them for removing the missiles but for putting them there. They claimed this was a departure from fundamental communist principles. The official Chinese Communist statement on the question of missiles in Cuba is as follows:

"The Communist Party of China and the Chinese people have always maintained that the course of history is decided by the great strength of the masses of the people and not by any weapons. On more than one occasion we have made it clear that we neither called for the establishment of missile bases in Cuba nor obstructed the withdrawal of the so-called 'offensive weapons' from Cuba. WE HAVE NEVER CONSIDERED THAT IT WAS A MARXIST-LENINIST ATTITUDE TO BRANDISH NUCLEAR WEAPONS AS A WAY OF SETTling INTERNATIONAL DISPUTES. Nor have we ever considered that the avoidance of a thermonuclear war in the Caribbean crisis was a 'Munich'."

CHINESE

The Chinese Communists believe that the conquest of the United States is primarily the responsibility of the American Communists and the American people. From Marxist-Leninist doctrine they believe that a majority of the American people are in a state of potential rebellion against the capitalist system and the government and that a courageous and dedicated communist minority can ignite and lead this revolutionary explosion.

Those communists in America under the influence of the Chinese Communists advocate the following policies:

1. The communists should proclaim their role as revolutionary leaders and seek to inspire and lead others to acts of revolutionary violence.
2. The attacks should be focused on the party in power.
3. They teach there is no real difference between the nature of the two parties and they have no choice between Senator Goldwater and President Johnson. Their attitude is, "A plague on both your houses."
4. Communists should lead independent Civil Rights groups in open violent rebellion.

THE GREATER PERIL

Both forms of communist strategy are evil and dangerous. When communists, following the advice of the Chinese, lead violent mobs to arson, murder and pillage on the streets, the American people become aroused. Nevertheless, the greater threat to the continued existence of a free America comes from the subtle, clever, integrated program of Russian communism. If concern is focused on the obvious Chinese Communist activities, while the Russian Communist strategy continues without recognition or opposition, the communists will have won a great and possibly a decisive victory. You are just as dead if you are strangled slowly as if you are shot or stabbed.

WASHINGTON (AP) —

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. has been promoted to colonel despite his request that he be passed over because of his impending retirement from the Marine Corps.

"Col. Glenn felt his promotion would deprive another worthy American of a deserved award," said President Johnson as he presented the eagles of a colonel to Glenn at the White House Tuesday.

"There are few people who reason this way," Johnson said. He added that he had solved the problem by adding the name of another officer to his list for nominations to colonel.

Glenn, first American to orbit the earth, is expected to become an executive of a soft drink company soon.

Women's Prison Helps Set New Standards For Inmates

By STRAT DOUTHAT
ALDERSON, W. Va. (AP) — Georgian Colonial dormitories and a tree-shaded lawn lend a collegiate atmosphere to the unique federal prison here — but the illusion is short-lived. The "campus" is surrounded by a high chain-link fence topped by two feet of barbed wire, and the "coeds" are convicted criminals.

This is the Federal Reformatory for Women — the only federal prison designed exclusively for confinement of women. It was built in 1927 as an institution for female prohibition violators.

Today, nearly 600 women from 49 states and several foreign countries are confined on the 500-acre reservation, bordering a small farming community.

Prison directors choose to call the inmates "residents."

"But we feel like convicts," says one inmate. Prison life is a matter of learning to accept things you can't change."

Warden Gladys V. Bowman echoes these sentiments. "Most of them realize they have to pay for the errors they made, but this doesn't mean they have to like it."

HOMESICK FOR IDS
The women range in age from 17 to 73 and are allowed to select their own clothes. Only the guards wear uniforms.

Security is loose and the guards carry no weapons. The only maximum-security dormitory available is used chiefly to detain escapees for trial.

Foremost among the problems of the inmates is their natural maternal instinct. Most who attempt to escape say they wanted to visit their children.

Another problem is lesbianism. This was described in a book written by former resident Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, executive secretary of the Communist Party of America. She served an Alderson term for sedition.

Warden Bowman acknowledges that homosexuality exists, but says the situation is not nearly as severe as in men's prisons. "I don't think it's any worse here than in most girls' schools," she says. "We try to make it as unattractive as possible — especially to impressionable youngsters."

BUSY HANDS, MINDS
Mrs. Bowman says a busy schedule helps avoid moral problems.

After undergoing a battery of physical and psychological tests, inmates are assigned a job.

Education also is stressed. An overwhelming number of the inmates never finish high school. About one-fourth quit before the Seventh Grade.

Girls finishing high school credits go through a special ceremony each fall — complete with caps and gowns.

Mrs. Bowman, a handsome, graying woman of 50, is a one-time schoolteacher and served as a major in the women's Army Corps before joining the prison service in 1946.

Her personal objective is to give the inmates a new set of values.

She gets help on this from the prison chaplain, the Rev. R. A. Neustifter.

"Here, you can really get to know them," he says.

PROOF IN PUDDING
Little of this fresh, rehabilitating treatment was available before the Alderson institution opened.

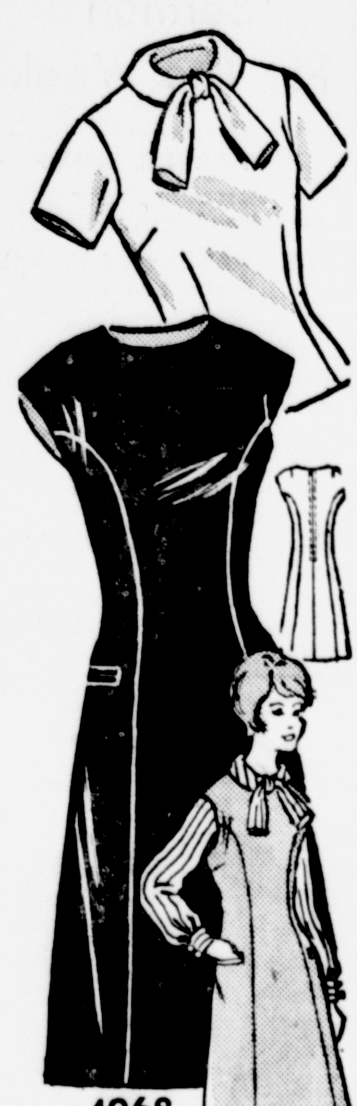

Women convicted in federal courts were lodged in county workhouses, jails, state prisons and almost anywhere else the U.S. Department of Justice could find to put them.

"But today," Mrs. Bowman says "we feel that the reformatory makes the women better equipped to meet society when they complete their sentences."

Statistics seem to bear her out. Only about 10 per cent return.

More than 250,000 amateur radio operators in the United States crisscross the world every day and night with short-wave messages. Their largest organization, the American Radio Relay League, celebrated its 40th anniversary in 1964.

Social Security

Q. How can I find out if I have received credit for all my work under social security?

A. We have a free postcard form you can send in to check your record. The post card is pre-addressed. All you have to do is fill in the blanks and sign it. You will get a statement of your earnings about two weeks after you send in the card.

Q. I'll be 65 in November 1964 and plan to retire. What should I take with me when I go to the social security office to put in my claim?

A. Bring your social security card, a record that proves your age, and a copy of your withholding tax form for 1963. If your wife is 62 or over, she should come with you. If you have children under 18, bring their birth certificates.

Q. I got a statement of my social security record and understand that I am "fully insured." Does this mean that I'll collect the maximum payment when I retire?

A. No. Your retirement check will be based on your average earnings, not just the length of time you have worked.

Q. If I am not able to show a net profit of at least $400 from my farm, is there any way for me to get social security credits?

A. Yes, there is another way. If your gross farm income amounts to at least $600, you can report and pay the tax on two-thirds of your gross income up to $1,800.

TAXES

Elect a man who will not look on blindly while State Taxes are increased. I will introduce legislation to reduce the Sales Tax, as the past fiscal period surplus of more than $30,000,000 is evidence that the Governor's Tax increase in 1963 was not justified.

Real Economy in the administration can also mean further savings in our Tax Dollars.

KHRUSHCHEV'S FALL IT WAS A ROUTINE KREMLIN DOUBLCROSS U THANT MISSED GOOD CHANCE FOR SILENCE

NIKITA S. KHRUSHCHEV is the most recent convert to the idea that Communists cannot be trusted. On this point he must agree with Barry Goldwater.

Khrushchev's last appearance on TV was 12 October. He and Anastas Mikoyan, his warm buddy, trusted lieutenant and often the butt of Nikita's public jokes, were welcoming the return of the three cosmonauts.

Nikita was in fine fettle. He ended his remarks with: "I turn you over to Mikoyan before he grabs the microphone from me."

It is now believed that Mikoyan's job on that trip was to stay with Khrushchev and keep him from learning of the palace coup d'etat then in the making.

Mrs. Khrushchev is said to have been at a recreation and health spa in Czechoslovakia. Her companion was none other than the wife of Leonid I. Brezhnev.

He was Khrushchev's protégé. All of his promotions, except this last one as Nikita's successor, were by Nikita himself. Of the two top names, it is expected that Brezhnev will triumph over Aleksei N. Kosygin — comes the inevitable struggle for power between them.

IT IS NOW generally believed that when the decision had been made, both Khrushchev and his wife were given the opportunity of addressing the Central Committee.

That the decision was already on ice was evidenced by the cold, stone-like silence with which the committee, the nearest approach there is to a Soviet parliament, sat through K's long rebuttal to an even longer indictment by Mikhail A. Suslov, a recognized master of Red dialectics.

The coup is no more than a routine double-cross at the palace level covered by the usual spate of lies, such as the official announcement that K. was stepping down for reasons of health and age.

ONE OF MY PINKISH friends argues that all is proper and above board. "When the prime minister of England loses the majority confidence of Parliament he steps down. Why should not Nikita do the same?"

There is a big difference. In the United Kingdom the parliamentary election returns are of public record. The names and prior policy records of the incoming cabinet members are known to all the world who care to read.

Moreover, the outgoing prime minister and his family are not held incommunicado and their life, death and personal future kept in doubt. There is no official lie about age and health.

Such a comparison of Russia's government to that of Britain and those of the Commonwealth democracies is a good example of Communist dialecticism at its best and worst.

THE PATTERN for change in Russia is well enough demonstrated by the questionable demise of Stalin; the emergence and fall of Malenkov; and by the rise of Khrushchev himself that the recent events should have surprised no one.

The surprising factor is that so many informed people indicated surprise. There is also the amazing public reaction of Communist party leaders outside of Russia. The Kremlin party bosses apparently underwent secretive and sudden change just once too often. Obviously when a zag is about to be switched to a zig, the party ty brethren in other lands think they should be consulted.

There is also the astounding performance of U Thant in the United Nations. Right while he has hopefully postponed a session of the U.N. Assembly in hopes of collecting some long overdue bills from Russia and sundry other members how in arrears with their dues, U Thant jumps into the picture in behalf of Nikita, the dictator who pounded the U.N. table with his shoe and created the controversial deficit by non-payment of assessments.

Actually, who the dictator of Russia, the prime minister of England or the President of the United States might be is absolutely none of U Thant's business.

Though we were pleased by the adverse publicity his fortuitous pronouncement focused upon the Kremlin and its methods, it is an inescapable fact that as secretary general of the U.N., Mr. U Thant missed a superb opportunity for keeping his mouth shut.

Dabbling in the internal affairs of a member nation is the most dangerous rock in the reefs and shoals that surround the United Nations.

The adverse impact of the fall of Khrushchev upon the ties of Europe could have forced toward restoration of Nikita to public life, perhaps some embassy or a harmless, ornamental assignment as high as president of the USSR.

But there could be a disastrous effect. This growing rift among the Communist parties and Red regimes of Europe could drive the new rulers of the Kremlin into the arms of the Chinese.

It is only in China and Albania that Khrushchev's mid-night fall from power is being viewed with pleasure.

27 CAMPAIGNS FOR CONGRESS GET ATTENTION

Eisenhower Wins "Family Of Man"

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican national campaign committees are pumping thousands of dollars into Pennsylvania's 27 Congressional campaigns this year.

A financial report filed with the House clerk showed Thursday that the National Republican Congressional Committee—which works for the election of Republican House members — gave $20,850 to GOP candidates in the state between Sept. 1 and Oct. 19.

Its counterpart, the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee, made $10,825 available to Democratic Congressional candidates during the same period.

READING CONTEST

In the 6th Congressional District which Republicans contend is their best bet to gain a House seat in Pennsylvania, the GOP committee gave $4,300 during the period to the campaign of James B. Bamford of Reading.

Rep. George M. Rhodes, also of Reading, received $1,300 for his campaign from the Democratic Congressional group during the same period.

Despite the GOP claims of a possible victory, the Democratic Campaign Committee expressed confidence that Rhodes would win by a bigger margin than he

KHRUSHCHEV GETS PENSION, PRIVATE AUTO

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev is receiving a pension of 1,000 rubles a month, usually reliable sources said today, and has a chauffeur-driven car at his disposal. A thousand rubles equal $1,111 at the official rate.

These sources gave the Khrushchev's address at 3 Granovsky St.

The former Kremlin chief was said to have taken a four-room apartment in a big red brick apartment house a block from his former Kremlin office.

LIVES ON SIDE STREET

The Granovsky address is an old building put up in the 1920s to house Kremlin officials. This is a short side street, normally heavily patrolled by uniformed and plainclothes policemen.

Other tenants in the building include former Premier Vyacheslav Molotov, whom Khrushchev consigned to oblivion after a Kremlin power struggle in 1957.

The apartment opposite the Khrushchev's was reported occupied by the former Red army Marshal Georgi Zhukov, whom Khrushchev fired as defense minister in 1957.

U. S. Back British Stand In Rhodesia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has supported the British government's opposition to a move toward independence by Southern Rhodesia's white government.

A statement issued Wednesday by the State Department warned Rhodesians of "serious consequences which would befall all Rhodesia should their government continue to follow its present course," and expressed the U.S. government's "mounting concern" at the situation.

Earlier this week, British Prime Minister Harold Wilson told Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith that a unilateral declaration of independence would mean Rhodesia's expulsion from the British Commonwealth.

Vatican Council Urged To Make Fearless Study On Birth Control Stand

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Cardinals and bishops urged the Vatican Ecumenical Council today to undertake a fearless new look at all aspects of traditional Roman Catholic teaching on birth control.

Leo Jozef Cardinal Suenens of Brussels, Belgium, put the matter squarely to the worldwide assembly of Roman Catholic prelates in St. Peter's, telling them:

"We must not be afraid to look at our traditional doctrine to see if it represents the final word. Let us see if there is not a new approach that can be taken."

DEFINE MORALITY

Other speakers in today's council debate on modern world problems also urged the assembly to define more clearly the question of morality and birth control in the council schema on the Church in the modern world. All, however, cautioned against abandoning traditional Church teaching on this subject.

The speakers, whose remarks were reported by a council press spokesman, dealt with the birth control question in general terms without going into specifics. This appeared to be in line with an admonition by council presiding officers that the "more delicate" points in the debate be handled only in writing.

LAST MAJOR VOTE

Beside debating the modern world schema, the council fathers today also completed their last major vote on their crucial theological schema of ecclesia about the Church. The vote today all but cleared the way for the proclamation of the schema as a decree formally affirming that the bishops collectively share authority over the Church with the Pope.

The council fathers, in today's ballot, approved the final chapter of de ecclesia by a vote of 1,559 to 10, with another 521 approving with reservations. The final chapter discusses the place

Rebels Capture U. S. Missionary

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An American missionary has been captured by Communist-backed rebels and is awaiting trial by a military tribunal, a rebel broadcast says.

The missionary, Dr. Paul Carlson, 36, of Rolling Hills, Calif., has been in the Congo 14 months. Rebel warriors captured him Sept. 20 at Yakoma on the northern frontier, according to a communique issued by Christophe Gbenye, self-proclaimed president of the Congolese People's Republic in Stanleyville.

The rebels claimed Carlson was a major in the U.S. armed forces, but U.S. Embassy officials say his only military experience was a two-year hitch in the Navy.

Carlson's wife and two children fled to the neighboring Central African Republic with other missionaries during the rebel offensive last month.

Astronaut Enters Power Boat Race

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper Jr. reported during his orbits last year that he could see Salton Sea in California very clearly. Now he is going to get a much closer look.

It was disclosed Wednesday that Cooper will enter a power boat in the $28,000 Salton City 500-mile race Nov. 6-8. He'll be a co-driver.

of the Virgin Mary in the Church. The chapter on shared papal-episcopal power was approved earlier this month.

Council action on birth control is expected to take into account the papal-ordered birth control study, which is expected to go into all aspects, including contraceptive pills.

GRISSOM SAYS TITAN ROCKET IS SAFEST YET

BALTIMORE (AP) — Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom says the Titan rocket scheduled to launch him and his partner on a three-orbit flight around the earth about next February is the safest space-booster yet produced.

Grissom told reporters Wednesday that he is far more confident of the GT3 vehicle — so called because it is the third Gemini-Titan rocket to be built — than he ever was of its predecessors.

Looking over the GT3 at the Martin Co. plant before a ceremony at which the rocket was formally transferred to the Air Force and the space agency, Grissom declared:

"I can safely say that this Titan is the cleanest booster that has gone through all the tests — cleaner than any flown to date — the Redstone, the Atlas, or any previous Titan."

It was a Red-tone rocket that boosted Grissom on a Project Mercury suborbital mission to an altitude of 116 miles and a range of 254 miles July 21, 1961, as the second U.S. astronaut to make a ballistic flight.

Later, Atlas rockets launched three Mercury astronauts into separate orbital flights.

Grissom, 38, an Air Force major, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young, 34, are scheduled to be the first U.S. two-man team to attempt orbital flight.

Also on hand for the GT3 rollout inspection were Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra, 41, and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford, 34, the backup team.

your present home." Below is part of the text sent to The Gettysburg Times:

Murphy wrote in part: "So, though it is strict legal sense to call our agreement a court order, it is in laymen's language, an 'agreement' made for other reasons than any admission of guilt. I think that the properties across the street appear to you, as they do to me, as good or better than they were when we came.

"Now, to your interest. The only thing that shuts down March 1 is the chloride production. What remains is plenty of work for all of you until the slag pile is processed out.

"However, honestly, I must tell you that what might have been a long and satisfying career for you is now limited to a little more than one year.

"Perhaps, before this happens, I can relocate in an area that you can reach from your present homes. Steve Fehn and I are doing our utmost to this end. I beg of you to join me in forgiving these people. Please forget at once and for all time the things that I have heard rumbling through the plant, no matter how badly you feel that you have been hurt.

"For the company, will you please remember that there has never been a layoff here even when our competition used our difficulties as a weapon against us and cut our sales in half. It goes without saying that I will continue to appreciate your loyalty and hard effort."
